Friends Kidnaped Schwartz at the Depot, but He Finally Escaped.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 8.—Miss Nan Nolan of this city, niece and heiress of Thomas Connor, Joplin, Mo., millionaire, who died recently, eloped last night with Will Schwartz, a Fremont undertaker.

A funeral had much to do with the elopement and marriage. A license was obtained here about 5 o'clock and it was the intention of the couple to take the 5:40 train and slip away to Michigan to be married at Dearborn by a priest who is a friend of Schwartz.

Friends of the couple heard of their intention to slip away and be married and they nearly upset the plan by their interference. They gathered at the depot and when the couple appeared they kidnaped Schwartz. Miss Nolan was permitted to board the train, but Schwartz was carried away from the depot. He managed to escape, and took an electric car to Toledo, where he re-joined Miss Nolan.

Honey-moon in Joplin.

The couple went from there to Dearborn and were married. According to their plans they will go to Joplin, where the bride's wealthy uncle lived, to spend their honeymoon.

Opposition on the part of Miss Nolan's family was the reason of the elopement.

Schwartz and Miss Nolan first met at the funeral of Connor here recently, and a rapid courtship followed.

Connor left Tiffin a poor heir, 40 years ago. He went to Joplin and made a little money, with which he bought "waste land" at low prices. It developed that the land contained a large amount of zinc and Connor was soon a millionaire.

At the time of his death he was erecting a hotel in Joplin to cost about $2,000,000.

CUSTOMERS VANISH AND TWO RINGS WORTH $750 GO, TOO

After two dapper young men, who came "to look at rings," had departed from the jewelry store of Vahlman & Jacobs, 222 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis Friday afternoon, E. S. Jacobs, one of the proprietors, discovered that two diamond rings were missing.

Mr. Jacobs waited on one of the young men. The other young man dallied idly near the front of the store. After a few minutes the man looking at the rings decided "he didn't want to buy today" and the pair left.

One of the rings was worth $350, the other weighing 3 1/2 karats. The other was worth $400, the stone weighing 3 3/4 karats.

ROOSEVELT WOULD AVENGE SLAIN SECRET SERVICE MAN

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The following letter, addressed jointly to the Attorney-General and the Secretary of the Interior under date of Nov. 6, was made public at the White House today:

"My attention has been called to dispatches in reference to the murder of Secret Service Agent Walker, while in the performance of his duty investigating certain coal land frauds in Colorado. I trust every effort will be exerted by your department to prosecute vigorously every violation of the land laws which Walker was investigating."

BANKERS MAY BE PROSECUTED

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Reports that criminal prosecutions as a result of conditions disclosed by the present banking situation in this city are imminent gained wide circulation in financial circles today.

When United States District Attorney Stimson was asked about the matter he said that no decision had yet been reached to prosecute any one in connection with the recent bank troubles. Mr. Stimson said:

"Since the banking troubles in this city became acute in the last three weeks, my office has followed them with the same care that it always tries to give to all matters within its jurisdiction. As yet there has been no decision or determination arrived at to prosecute any individual whatever, and I am not in a position to make any statement to the contrary."

STAGE MONEY HAS CEASED TO BE A JOKE

The grand jury is investigating a rumor that the weather has formed an illegal conspiracy with the coal men to bleed St. Louis, following a forecast today of lower temperatures, and it is reported that indictments will be returned. The forecast: "Fair and cooler tonight; Saturday fair; northwest winds, becoming variable Saturday."

East of the Mississippi it is generally warm, but in the Northwest shivery temperatures prevail, and the cold there is expected to advance St. Louisward. Fair weather is general except in the Ohio Valley, lake region and North Atlantic states.

The river fell .1 of a foot to 6.4. The temperatures in some other cities at 7 a. m. Friday were: Boston, 46; Chicago, Buffalo, Kansas City and Washington, 42; Cincinnati, 45; Louisville, 52; New Orleans, 52; New York, 40; Pittsburgh and Washington, 42; San Francisco, 54.

WEDDING NOISE-MAKERS ARE "BOUGHT OFF" WITH BRIDAL CAKE BY MINISTER

Shurtleff College Students, When Refused Pastry, Procure It Anyway at Upper Alton.

Beating tinpans and tooting horns, a small army of Upper Alton boys, some of them Shurtleff College students, interrupted the wedding of Rev. D. H. Toomey and Miss Fannie E. Williams Wednesday night by three unexpected and unwelcome serenades.

It has long been the custom of the Shurtleff boys to take part in all local weddings in Upper Alton, whether invited or not. Dr. Toomey knew their predilection and attempted to steer clear. He did not announce the time and place of his wedding.

When the horn serenade with the tinpans and whistles was heard without, the ceremony was stopped. Dr. Toomey is a quick thinker. He decided that bridal cake given the serenaders would induce them to depart. His theory proved correct. The uninvited visitors banished.

But before the ceremony was over a new crowd of boys appeared. They wanted cake, too. Dr. Toomey obliged them, although forced to halt the ceremony again.

When the third crowd appeared, Dr. Toomey decided the job was too big to carry too far. But he found later that the third crowd of boys had not been disappointed. Three cakes disappeared through a side window while they were in the vicinity.

Customer Arrested When He Called Girl "Disrespectable." All Over a Kiss.

Charles W. Wagner, a showworker of 11 North Gardenia avenue, was in City Hall Police Court Friday, and Lola Lounsbury of 226 Pine street, a dark-eyed cashier, said that he called her a "disrespectable woman."

"He came into the restaurant, where I was cashier, at 345 Pine street," she said, "and wanted a 'John Smith' check for $5 cashed."

"I told him I wouldn't take the 'John Smith' money. He said it was just as good as any other money, and then called me a disrespectful woman."

"Why did you call her that?" asked Judge Tracy.

"Well, last Saturday night she came to me across the cashier's counter at the restaurant and kiss her."

"Five dollars," said the Judge.

Wagner paid his fine in the "John Smith" check which Miss Lounsbury refused to take.

JUDGE, WHO IS ALSO A SINGER, STOPS COURTHOUSE SERENADE

Sends Deputy Sheriff Who Cuts
Short Band's Rendition of "Star Spangled Banner."

Judge Allen of the Circuit Court, who boasts a tenor voice which friends have told him almost equals Caruso's, found the strain on his musical sensibilities too much when the St. Louis University band performed a serenade under his court windows Thursday.

"In the name of Leoncavallo!" he exclaimed to Deputy Marshal Tony Kreh, "go out and tell them to quit."

While the Marshal was performing his errand, the Judge sat with his ears protected by his palms.

Interrupted in the midst of a vociferous performance of "The Star Spangled Banner," the band was reduced to silence with an abruptness which produced a vacuum in the circumambient atmosphere. After a feeble attempt at a college yell, the band marched off with muffled drums.

JAIL FOR GIRL TOO POOR TO PAY

She Pleads With Judge That She Cannot Leave Her Work.

CRITICISES THE STATE

To Make Sure of Having Her the Court Locks Her in a Cell.

Because she criticized the policy of Illinois in refusing to pay the transportation of witnesses summoned to appear in criminal cases, Miss Antonia Jopinski, 19 years old, of Granite City, was committed to Jail by Judge Burroughs of the Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville Friday.

Miss Jopinski was summoned as a witness in the case of George Ellett, accused of larceny. She arrived at the court room in Edwardsville early and waited until the case was called. On motion of Ellett's attorney the hearing was continued to next Monday.

Miss Jopinski told an attorney that she would be unable to return Monday, as she could not leave her work and could not afford to pay her fare.

"Tell the judge about it," said the lawyer.

Miss Jopinski walked forward to the bench and said to Judge Burroughs: "I can't come back Monday. You won't pay my fare and I can't stay away from my work."

"You will have to come back," said the Judge.

"But I can't," said the young woman. "Then you will have to go to jail," replied the Judge.

"Judge, I don't want to go to jail, but that is the only way you can be sure of having me here Monday," she said.

"You are in contempt of court," said Judge Burroughs.

Summoning a deputy sheriff he instructed him to lock up Miss Jopinski.

WOMAN MURDERED; MOTIVE MYSTERY

Wealthy Cuban Found Dead in Hallway of Her Home in New York.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Lying face downward in a pool of blood, the body of Mrs. Cesario Vigil, elderly and well-to-do, was found at the foot of the main stairway of her home at West 138th street today. Her skull was crushed in and there was a pronounced odor of illuminating gas in the hallway. The ambulance surgeon who examined the body said the woman could not have been received in a fall down the stairway.

While the police suspect a murder, they can find no motive for the crime. The sideboard had been ransacked, but no silver or valuables were taken, and there was no sign of a struggle.

Of Mrs. Vigil little is known, except that she was a Cuban by birth. She purchased her home 12 years ago for $20,000 and had lived there alone, with the exception of servants, ever since.

BONFIRE IS BADLY BURNED

Her Clothing Catches as She Stirs
the Flames in Companions' Absence.

Daisy Keeney, 5 years old, was so badly burned Friday while playing with her cousin, 13-year-old Elmer Tutthill, near a bonfire in the yard of her home, 417 1/2 Carter avenue, that it is doubtful if she will recover.

The boy ran into the house to get papers, and little Daisy stirred the fire. Her dress took fire, and she was in flames before those in the house could help her. After the flames had been extinguished, she was taken to the office of Dr. C. H. Ball, 4107 Lee avenue. He said she could not recover. She is the daughter of Thomas Keeney.

GIRL AFTER FOUR DAYS' TRANCE
DESCRIBES A VISION OF HEAVEN

Bride-to-Be Says Future World Is Like Mountains on Summer Morning.

GATES OPEN TO HER

Relatives Long Dead Were Her Companions on Spiritual Journey.

Heaven is a place of wonderful whiteness, melodious music and intense peace, the home of uncounted souls and angels who wear white garments, but who are without wings. Lydia Bridges, the East St. Louis girl who awakened Thursday afternoon from a four days' trance, so describes it. There is no fragrance of flowers, no glint of gold, no blue-vaulted skies, only soft, white mistiness, such as one sees in the Western mountains in the mornings of summer. She had no consciousness of being awake for several hours Wednesday, although she talked with her mother, Mrs. Edmund Bridges, and her betrothed, Rolla Taylor, and partook of food.

Says She Has Seen It.

"I did not believe there was a Heaven and I often said so," she said as if she were desirous that the listener should have a clear understanding of conditions, "but I have seen it now and I know. There is no Hell. All the time that I was gone I did not see one bad or unhappy place."

"The only Hell there is is the one on this earth."

"I knew I was lying on the bed. Above me, in midair, I could see grandfather. He wanted me to go to him, but I couldn't. They tell me that I sat up Wednesday and talked to mother and Rolla and told them all that I had seen. I don't remember that. All that I know is that the second time I saw grandfather I was able to go up to him. I saw the gates of heaven. They were closed like this (interlocking her fingers until they formed a V), but they opened outward and grandfather took me in."

"I saw no gatekeeper. The gates were white ones, not gold ones, and all about was a kind of white haze."

Saw Oceans of Faces.

"On either side were oceans of faces. They all seemed to be watching me as I walked through with grandfather. I saw many angels, but none of them had wings. They were dressed in white with veils over them, but grandfather was dressed as he was the last time I saw him. All the people and the angels sang 'Nearer, My God, to Thee.' It is the hymn I love the best, and they sang it so sweetly. But grandfather did not take me to God."

"He led me through Heaven. It was not like any other place I have ever seen."

"There were no flowers, only that soft whiteness everywhere. You cannot think how beautiful it was. We went everywhere without effort. Nothing worried me. I forgot my home folks. I forgot all about my sweetheart and that I am to be married to him some day. Every thing was beautiful and so white that I was just happy."

"After awhile we reached a place where there were no crowds, only those who belonged to me—my little brothers and sister. She was Ida, the boys were Walter, Jesse and the baby who died before he was named."

Girl Right About Family.

Just then Miss Bridges' sister contradicted her, saying, "We have two brothers and two sisters dead, not three brothers and one sister."

"No," she said decidedly, but with no raising of the voice, "it is as I say. Listen, for instance, to Rev. Edmund Duckworth, the square-jawed and Titian-haired rector of St. James Episcopal Church."

"I view this matter with indifference. Words on a coin do not inspire faith in God. To leave them off will not destroy or lessen anyone's faith in God."

Cross Incident Is Recalled.

Father Phelan, the editor-priest of Mount Carmel Catholic Church, was reminded of a story, "nere in Baden," he said, "the German Catholics got in debt and had to sell their parochial school building to the School Board for a public school. There was a cross over the building, and it stayed there four years after the building changed hands. Every one said the cross didn't belong over the public school, but nobody cared to be the one to take it down. Finally the Board got a Catholic architect, and he took it down."

"So with the words on the coin. I don't know why anyone wanted to take them off, yet I don't know what they were doing there in the first place. The coin goes without a prayer. The trend of the age is to secularism. People pray in their closets, when they pray at all."

Alludes to Phillips' Words.

Wendell Phillips, in speaking on the Dred Scott decision, said the words, "God Bless the Commonwealth of Massachusetts," on the State coat-of-arms, and substituted the word "damn" for "bless" in his speech. The phony intention of the person who got up the emblem did no good in that case—perhaps it never does.

Views of Other Ministers.

Other views expressed were: Rev. Martin R. Sommer, Grace English Lutheran Church: "It does not make the slightest difference to me whether a coin bears the words 'In God We Trust' or not, so long as it will buy

"GODLESS" COIN LOOKS

New $10 Gold Piece Without Pious Words Will Be Made Welcome as a Church Contribution by St. Louis Ministers.

If you get hold of one of the new $10 gold pieces, which lack the time-honored motto, "In God We Trust," don't hesitate to drop it in the contribution box at any St. Louis church. It will be accepted just as readily as one of the plausibly inscribed coins we have been used to.

St. Louis ministers who expressed their views regarding the change to a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday did not seem to view it with great alarm. Most of them thought that, having had the words on the coin, it was a mistake to take them off, but that the public policy was not likely to suffer greatly.

Condemned It in Pittsburgh.

In other cities the clergy have taken the change more seriously. Pittsburgh ministers condemned the alteration as an act of shocking impiety, and in some too robust, there is a general outcry. Sculptor St. Gaudens, Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou, President Roosevelt, and even the bland and far-fung Taft have shared in the condemnatory expressions of the ministry.

Worse Than the Cocktail.

"This is worse than the Fairbanks cocktail," declared one leading preacher in Philadelphia, where the new coins were minted.

Rev. S. E. Ewing, Euclid Avenue Baptist Church: "I like the sentiment expressed in the motto, but when it comes to real religion and personal values, I do not think the change will make any difference."

Rev. D. C. Garrett, St. Peter's Episcopal Church: "It was a good old motto, but I doubt whether it made anyone more pious to handle money bearing it. I do not suppose the change was made with any intention of discrediting religion."

Rev. S. C. Palmer, Lafayette Park Presbyterian Church: "While the words may have been overlooked by many persons handling the coins, they should have been left there as a national expression. This is especially valuable in the impression it may make on heathen countries where the coins may go."

"LAWLER" DALEY'S NEGRO CONSTITUENT GETS A CITY
JOB; IT IS ON ROCKPILE

He Was About to Sidestep Vagrancy Charge Until He Mentioned Daley.

A constituent of Chairman "Lawler" Daley of the Democratic City Central Committee got a job from the city Friday. Judge Tracy of the City Hall Police Court gave it to him. The job is to break rock for about six months or pay money for not doing so. "It happened in this way: Charles Liverpool, a negro, was charged with vagrancy. He denied the charge, said he lived at 1118 Morgan street and was usually employed. The Court listened to his story.

"I'll give you a chance to prove what you say," said Judge Tracy. "Whom do you want to subpoena as witnesses?"

"You might get my mother," replied Liverpool.

"She won't do," the Judge remarked, kindly. "You must produce some disinterested witness."

"Well, get Mr. Lawler Daley, then," suggested Liverpool.

"One hundred dollars," shouted the Judge, hurriedly, and the astonished negro was led to a cell.

FIRE DESTROYS POSTOFFICE

Postmaster Believes That It Was the Work of Robbers.

The Postoffice at Leesburg, Mo., 70 miles west of St. Louis, was destroyed by fire at 2:30 a. m. Friday. In the one-story frame building also was a general store kept by the postmaster, John McGinnis.

The money and stamps were in a safe and no Government property of value was destroyed.

Postmaster McGinnis thinks robbers set fire to the building.

ELECTRIC SHOCK KILLS BOY AT LIGHTING PLANT

Employee at Highland, Ill., Receives Fatal Current at Switchboard.

Milton Baumann, 18 years old, was electrocuted in the power house of the lighting plant at Highland, Ill., while working Thursday night at the switchboard. He was assistant electrician, and had been employed by the company six months. He was the son of C. P. Baumann of Highland.

None of the other employees of the plant saw him in the few minutes before his body was found lying near the switchboard. It is supposed that his hand slipped or that by some accident he touched the exposed portion of one of the levers.

His right hand was deeply scarred at the finger tips, and there was a burn on the palm of his left hand, indicating that a powerful current had been short-circuited through his body. His father said Friday that he blamed no one for the fatality.

JUDGE MAKES HUSBAND DO STRENGTH STUNTS IN COURT

Divorce Defendant Pleaded Wounded Hand Disabled Him, but He Must Pay Alimony.

Judge Allen of the Circuit Court has to be shown. Chris Winter, Jr., whose wife, Leslie, seeks alimony, in her suit for divorce, protested Thursday that he was unable to work because his father-in-law had shot him in the right hand.

"Let's see whether you can write your name," said the Judge.

Winter, after a few minutes, grasped the pen firmly and wrote a legible signature.

"Now, lift that inkwell," commanded the Judge.

The inkwell was slowly, but with ease, raised from the desk.

"I believe you can lift that heavy docket book, too," continued the Judge. "Try it."

With numerous groans, Winter, unwillingly raised the book two feet from the table.

"You will pay your wife $50 for the expenses of her suit and $20 a month alimony," was the Court's decision.

VICTIM WAS TOO BUSY TO LOOK AT SALOON ROBBERS

Edward Doran Says He Did Not Notice Hands of Men Who Killed Dunn.

Edward Doran, his head bandaged because of the beating given him by the robbers who killed Peter Dunn in a saloon, was asked at the Dunn inquest Friday to describe the robbers.

"Did they have rough hands like workmen?" the Coroner asked.

"I wasn't watching their hands," said Doran. "It kept me busy looking into the three big guns they were holding out at me."

Attempts to get William Driscoll, another witness, to describe the robbers were little more successful. A verdict of homicide was returned.

The police are without evidence against any person, and have released the suspects first arrested. The robbery took place Wednesday night at Conroy's grocery and saloon, 428 South Fifteenth street.

MAID CHASED RAFFLES FROM CABANNE HOME

Emma Lingenfelder Found Dress Suit Burglar in the Hall.

GENTLEMANLY LOOKING

When She Asked His Business
He Ran Through House and Escaped.

HAD "BUNNY" WITH HIM

Companion Went Through Front Door When Interruption Came.

Emma Lingenfelder, a maid, alone in the home of her employer, Leonard Matthews, at 5447 Cabanne avenue, saw a "Raffles" and a "Bunny." She chased the Raffles, but he escaped, though handicapped by an Inverness coat, a full dress suit and a silk hat, which is not the best costume for racing. His companion went out through the front door.

The Matthews family had gone to a reception and the maid was clearing the dining table at 8:30 p. m. Thursday when she heard a noise in the front hall.

She cautiously went to the door and peered from the dining room into the hall. She saw a man who she says was "more than 5 feet tall, handsome and stylish." His silk hat was highly polished. His long black cape coat set faultlessly on his shoulders.

Looked Like a Gentleman.

He looked so much like a gentleman that the maid didn't scream. She thought at first that some man living in the neighborhood had got into the wrong house.

She advanced toward him and asked: "What are you doing here?"

For answer the intruder rushed past her and ran through the kitchen and out the back door.

The maid, as she was about to pursue the tall, handsome man, said she heard a noise behind her. She turned and saw another man, another tall nor handsome nor nearly so well dressed as his companion. He was just disappearing through the front door when the young woman caught her only glimpse of him.

The maid hurried to the home of her employer's son, Claude Matthews at 5447 Cabanne avenue, and he accompanied her on her return to his father's house.

It was found that a window of the parlor, on the west side of the house in front, had been opened. It had been locked. From the parlor the intruders evidently went to the rear of the house and unlocked the door there to afford easy exit in case they were caught. Then, the maid thinks, they went upstairs.

She believes the intruder was a man that attracted her attention was made as they descended the stairway when they heard her putting away the Matthews family silver.

A careful inventory of the rooms upstairs and down showed that nothing was missing.

CHIEF FLY KILLER HAS A BATTING AVERAGE OF
.300 AND IS IMPROVING

Government Printer Thinks New Office Will Save a Great Deal of Time and Money.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Public Printer Sullings' creation of the office of Chief Fly Killer and Assistant Fly Killer in the Government printing office has given much satisfaction to bald-headed printers there. Chief Larking and Assistant Johnson have been on the job with little bats made of sticks of wood and with wire fly screens. Larking has a batting average of .300, while Johnson is about 75 behind, but gaining.

The weather has been so warm here that the flies have shown no disposition to quit their regular routes. As is well known, a fly has no sense. Most people, after alighting on a bald head, find that it contained no nutriment, would go somewhere else. But a fly after thoroughly exploring a shiny surface, will return to it at a moment's notice and begin its studies all over again.

It has been estimated that the Government loses in the case of each printed page as much as 17 minutes a week in shooing flies, and the total loss of time in a year is enormous. It is, of course, a historical fact that no one by slapping has ever been able to destroy a fly or prevent one from returning to the investigations the next moment, but it is impossible to induce men to refrain from slapping. Hence the appointment of Messrs. Larking and Johnson is expected to produce great results in the way of bringing the department up to a high standard of efficiency.

The legitimate paid elimination of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis was its substance to greater than that of any other English language paper in the city.

DELEGATES' CASE GOES OVER FOR ANOTHER DAY

Argument to Save Warner and Priesmeyer to Be Made Saturday.

GRAND JURY MEETS

Takes Up More of the Investigation Into Contracts by City Officials.

Arguments on the pleas in abatement filed by attorneys for Fred Warner and W. Priesmeyer, members of the House of Delegates, indicted for bribery, were continued Friday until 10 a. m. Saturday. The accused men seek to have the indictments quashed on the ground that they were compelled to testify before the grand jury which returned the charges.

Former Assistant Circuit Attorney Bishop, who was one of Folk's assistants in the boodle crusade, will make his first public appearance in the case since he was retained by Circuit Attorney Sager.

Two indictments growing out of the investigation of the House of Delegates and Council will be returned by the grand jury not later than Monday, it is said. One of these indictments may be in connection with the cleaning of the Council chamber.

The plea is based on the grounds that the indicted delegates were taken before the grand jury involuntarily and without knowledge of the proceedings which afterwards were made the basis of the indictments voted against them by the jury.

Grand Jury's Work.

The grand jury will today take up the investigation of contracts for the renovation of the House and Council chambers. Witnesses not yet heard on these matters are expected to add to the information already possessed by the jury.

Former Councilman George C. Linde, who pleaded guilty to an indictment, has been called to give additional information concerning contracts. Bronson and Harold Doyle, sons of W. F. Doyle, one of the persons interested in the cleaning contract for the House of Delegates, were examined late yesterday afternoon.

Comptroller Player was examined yesterday in relation to the insurance contracts which he executed for the city with Councilman Albert E. Thompson. Frank Fitzgerald, clerk in the office of Auditor Bernard Dierkes, produced warrants drawn against the treasurer for the amounts of the premiums.

The First Ward Improvement Association passed resolutions Thursday night approving the graft investigation now being conducted by Circuit Attorney Sager, and assuring him of its hearty support. The resolutions also condemn the action of the Delegates in holding the free bridge bill and various street improvement measures.

The First Ward is represented in the House of Delegates by Fred W. Priesmeyer, under indictment, and were directed as a blow at him.

The Street Committee of the association made a report on the movement to widen Warner avenue and Prairie avenue from the old Fair Grounds, and to pave Kossuth avenue and Natural bridge road from Grand to Taylor avenues.

ALIEN YOUTHS ROBBED; SENT ACROSS OCEAN

Man With Tin Badge and Bunco Citizenship Scheme Relieves Brothers of Money, Then Police Make an Arrest.

Otto and Oscar Roth, guileless youths from Krefeld-on-the-Rhine, are scurrying back across the ocean on a fast steamer, in the belief that they have been uncooled Uncle Sam. They were relieved to know that Fred Hesse, 56 years old, 418 South Compton avenue, was arrested Friday on the charge of obtaining money from them under false pretenses, and with frightening them into hasty flight after he had plucked all their financial feathers.

Made ambitious for a business career by the rosy letters of a third brother, Charles, a baker at 2561 Warren street, Otto and Oscar came to America five months ago. An advertisement which they inserted in a local German newspaper brought to see them a prosperous-looking man, wearing an awe-inspiring tin badge.

He told the brothers he was a city official and could get them fat city jobs if they were only naturalized. With his pull, he said, he would take them to the Federal building, and if they were willing to swear they had been in America five years, he would get papers for them. He said $50 each would pay for the trouble.

Then Oscar would be appointed park watchman at $75 a month and Otto engineer at the water works at $100 a month. The brothers dug up the money and were "naturalized" in some building they forgot where.

Oscar then was told he must have a uniform, and parted with $12 more. The brothers dug up the money and were "naturalized" in some building they forgot where.

Just as the brothers were getting suspicious, their benefactor came to them in a hurry and told them Uncle Sam had learned of their swearing to a false oath, and that they had better leave for Germany at once.

Charles identified Hesse as the man. He denies ever having had any dealings with the Roths.

I. C. ARGUMENTS ON NOV. 25

Outcome Will Decide Fate of Stock Held by Mutual Life.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Judge Ball today set Nov. 25 as the date upon which he would hear arguments affecting the voting of 500 shares of the stock of the Illinois Central Railroad, held by the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York. The proceedings are a part of the action covered by the bill for an injunction restraining the voting of these shares at the postponed annual meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central.

The attorneys for the insurance company declared that they were ready to proceed with the arguments. Counsel for Stuyvesant Fish, however, declared that they were not ready.

DRIVER IS DRAGGED 50 FEET AND INJURED IN RUNAWAY

Chris Bauer, 60 years old, proprietor of a grocery and saloon at 4553 North Broadway, was injured in a runaway at 11 o'clock Friday morning, while driving a spirited horse east on Ferry street. Physicians say he will probably die.

Bauer was on his way to the Waterworks trotting tracks for a spin with his horse and light vehicle and as he approached Oak avenue the horse was frightened at a barking dog and ran away. The lurch the horse made upset the runabout and Bauer was dragged 50 feet, his foot having caught in one of the wheels.

Bauer was carried to the office of Dr. Carl Schulz, 1109 Ferry street. He sustained a fractured skull, concussion of the brain and other injuries.

BUTTON WORTH $250 MISSING

The disappearance of a diamond button valued at $250 from the home of Mrs. Oscar Niedringhaus, 556 Plymouth avenue, has been reported to the police. Mrs. Niedringhaus says she has no idea how she lost the button.

The last she saw of it was when she placed it on a dresser in her room several days after returning from a reception.

LEWIS READS "MILLIONS IN IT" ADS TO HIS JURY

Lawyers on Both Sides Tire Putting Promoter's Literature Before the Court.

DEFENDANT MAKES HIT

Gets Closer Attention of Viewers When Judge Rules He May Take Part.

After a second lively tilt between attorneys for the Government and defense over the propriety of allowing Edward G. Lewis, on trial in the United States District Court on an indictment for using the mails in a scheme to defraud by the People's United States Bank, Lewis was allowed to proceed reading his magazine, where he left off Thursday evening when court adjourned.

The jury, after visiting a vaudeville performance Thursday night, was late arriving in court.

Attorney O'Brien motioned to Lewis to go on with his reading when court had been called to order. Judge Krum, special counsel for the Government, jumped to his feet and a repetition of Thursday afternoon's tilt over Lewis' reading to the jury was had.

"I take it that the attorneys for the defense have recovered sufficiently to go on with the reading," protested Krum to Judge Carland.

"I submit that counsel should read," continued Krum.

Attorney O'Brien replied that he was physically able to do the reading, but said he would prefer to rest and let Lewis read.

Decides for Lewis.

Judge Carland said Lewis could go on.

The jury was plainly tired of all the reading. Their eyes began to wander around the courtroom early Friday morning.

As soon as the reading from Lewis' publications is finished the Government will take up the examination of its witnesses where that part of the trial was stopped last Wednesday evening, when the mass of literature was introduced.

The three witnesses, upon whose testimony the indictment was returned, will first be examined. They will identify the correspondence with Lewis and tell of their dealings with the bank.

John E. Swanger, Secretary of State of Missouri, and State Bank Examiner R. M. Cook, who, with Assistant Postmaster James L. Siles, made the examination of the People's United States Bank in March, April and May, 1906, on which the Government fraud order was issued, will be called to tell of their examination. Edwin W. Lawrence, former assistant attorney to the Postoffice Department, arrived from New York Thursday night and was present when court opened Friday morning. He will be called on to testify.

Federal Lawyer Coming.

Judge Russell P. Goodwin, Assistant Attorney-General of the Postoffice Department, is expected to reach St. Louis Friday night.

At 11:30 o'clock Lewis finished reading the magazine he began on Thursday afternoon and Judge Krum began to read from the Woman's Magazine of January, 1905.

Lewis' defense, it is understood, will

POLICEMAN CHASES BURGLAR

Thief Was Trying to Enter Dr. Minges' Home.

A burglar who was trying to get into the home of Dr. A. C. Minges, 324 Wyoming street, shortly before midnight Thursday was fired upon and chased several blocks by Policeman Hasty of the Wyoming Street District. Hasty fired three shots at the burglar.

The policeman was attracted to the rear of the Minges home by a noise at the kitchen window. Just as he reached the yard the burglar, having evidently been frightened by members of the household, ran toward the alley. Hasty pursued, and when the alley was reached commenced firing at the fleeing man. The burglar made his escape.

Grateful Mother Tells Her Experience With Father John's Medicine

Mrs. James O'Brien of 3745 Hillside Avenue, Cincinnati, writes: "My husband has had a very bad stomach for eight or ten years and has a cough. Doctored by several good doctors, to no effect. He has been taking Father John's Medicine for about nine months and to our astonishment his trouble has completely disappeared. My husband is a railroad man and is subjected to all sorts of weather, day and night. If he should get wet or even work long hours, before he lies down he has to have his Father John's. Also I have two boys that have more confidence in this medicine than any thing in the drug store. If they have a cough, cold, or even if they feel a little out of sorts, the only comfort they have is Father John's Medicine. When they take it to school last winter, as soon as they came home they would say, 'I don't feel good, mamma, you must give us some Father John's Medicine tonight.' You are perfectly welcome to publish anything in regard to the cure of my husband's trouble, as my family and myself are concerned; we can not speak too highly of it." (Signed.) FAKE NOTICE OF DEATH BRINGS BRIDE FLOWERS

Friends of Mrs. Sebesta, Believing Her to Be Dead, Send Bouquets and Condolences, Which She Personally Receives.

Mrs. Anton Sebesta of Chicago, a bride of a year, who is visiting her parents at 2710 Missouri avenue, was highly pleased by the flowers which her friends sent to the house soon after her return to St. Louis until she learned that she was supposed to have died, and that the flowers were intended for her funeral Friday afternoon.

Her father, Joseph Sedlacek, and her two brothers and three sisters divided their time Friday between returning floral gifts and endeavoring to learn the source of the death notices which were published Thursday.

Some of those who called on errands of condolence were met by the young widow herself, and they uttered expressions of joy and amazement as they saw that she was in perfect health.

Mrs. Sebesta, who was Mary Sedlacek until her marriage in October, 1906, was much admired by the young men of her acquaintance and had not a few St. Louis suitors before she chose the Chicago druggist whose wife she is. Members of the family were unwilling Friday to believe that any of these disappointed ones had been the author of the

FORGETS WHERE SHE HID $18,000

Mrs. Dora McDonald's Attorney Says Slayer's Mental Condition Is Pitiable.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—At a time when she needs money badly in her fight for life, Mrs. Dora McDonald, charged with the murder of Webster Guerin, has forgotten the hiding place of $18,000 worth of bonds given her by her late husband, Michael C. McDonald.

This proof of the woman's mental aberration, cited by her counsel, Col. Hamilton Lewis, was sufficient to induce Judge Brentano yesterday to permit her case to go over until the December term of court.

"The condition of my client is pitiable," said Col. Lewis. "She cannot talk connectedly of the events connected with or following the shooting. I have tried to talk to her fifty times that I might be ready for trial, but I have not been able to get a coherent story."

"She has spoken to me frequently of these lost bonds and I have done everything in my power unsuccessfully to bring her back to some remembrance of where she placed them. She does not know the exact value of the bonds, but I suppose it is around $18,000. The bonds are of the St. Louis, El Paso and West Side properties, in which Mr. McDonald was interested."

FOLK VANISHES AND MONEY MARKET IS BETTER HERE

Absence of Governor on Gumshoe Inspection Tour Starts Gossips Going.

By Telephone to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 8.—This city is excited over the mysterious disappearance early this morning of Gov. Folk. Its left without telling where he was going.

Politicians are hatching all sorts of suspicious accounts for the Governor's gumshoe expedition. One, which is considered most probable, is that he is hoping to descend with the unexpectedness of the wolf on the fold upon some of the State institutions, with the purpose of seeing how they are conducted when not on parade. Heretofore his visits have been announced long before they were made.

Perhaps, it is guessed, he has loomed up today on the horizon of the Girls' Industrial Home at Chillicothe, and he may have come down upon the Insane Asylum at St. Joseph, rendering the officers of subjects for incarceration in their own cells. But the one best guess is that he is at Higginsville, where is located the Confederate Veterans' Home. It is said that there recently has come to the Governor's ears the report that the octopus, in the shape of a local railroad, has seized the cars of coal destined for the warmth and comfort of the veterans.

HURDS SEEMED TO HOLD BAKER UNDER SPELL

He Lavished Presents Upon Them and Did as They Suggested.

STORIES CONFLICTING

Chauffeur Tells of Clubman's Sudden Illness and $10 Tip From Hurd.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—"Hurry me home, I'm afraid I'm dying," This is the appeal Louis Sniffin, chauffeur, says Walter Farnsworth Baker made to his friends as they assisted him into the rented automobile in which Sniffin drove the Hurds, Mrs. Young and the Boston clubman from Brown's chophouse to the residence of the Hurds in Bogota, N. J., on the night Baker died.

Robert Shaw, a chauffeur, living in Hackensack, related, according to the Bergen County officials, the version of the night ride to Bogota as told to him by Sniffin soon after the incident. This account did not correspond with that given later by the chauffeur, Sniffin. It was said, told Shaw that Baker was in agony on all the trip and kept crying:

"I am poisoned! I am poisoned!" John Tracy, who was formerly chauffeur for Walter Baker and who is now employed by the Kid McCoy Motor Co., said Sniffin told him of receiving a $10 tip to ride trip besides a $15 fee.

"When I was Mr. Baker's chauffeur I saw a great deal of the Hurds and of Mr. Young, yet I never knew of Mr. Hurd giving a chauffeur such a large tip," said Tracy.

Gave Them Many Presents. "I have spent a lot of time at the Hurd home in Bogota and I always wondered at the way in which Mr. Baker permitted the Hurds and Mrs. Young to control his actions. At one word from either of the Hurds or Mrs. Young he would do as they said.

"I had many strange experiences at the Hurd home. My employer was very generous to his host and hostess and he showered presents upon Mrs. Young. I am surprised to hear that he did not pay for the auto hire the night Sniffin drove the party home."

Louis Sniffin, who concealed himself from newspaper men, but he consented to talk to a Post-Dispatch reporter who saw him at the garage.

"I don't remember saying anything to a person named Robert Shaw," he said. "On the night Baker was taken sick an order was received at the garage for a machine. I was sent to take the party to Bogota. A full account of the trip to Brown's chophouse, the Nottingham Hotel and back to the chophouse has been published."

On our last trip to the chop house Mr. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Hurd and Mrs. Young were in the car. Mr. Hurd and Mr. Lee got out the machine to go to get Mr. Baker.

Baker Appeared Very Ill. "When Baker was brought out of the chop house he appeared to me to be very sick. Mr. Hurd walked at his side and seemed to be supporting him. At first I thought Baker had been drinking and was heavily, but on closer observation I became convinced that he was sober."

"Just before Sniffin jumped into the auto Baker turned to Mr. Hurd and said: 'Hurry me home, I'm afraid I'm dying.' It was then he helped into the machine and we started for the Forty-second street ferry."

"Did Mr. Hurd give you a tip of $10?" he was asked.

"Yes, he did, and thought him very generous," answered Sniffin.

"Did he say anything to you after giving you the money?"

"Not that I remember."

The statement of the chauffeur that Baker was not able to walk when he reached the Hurd residence does not agree with the account given by Special Patrolman Jackson, who guards the houses on Larch Avenue Bogota. William F. Rickard, the Hackensack undertaker who embalmed the body of Baker without a death certificate and in spite of his knowledge that it was a case for the coroner, positively denied that the work was done within an hour of Baker's death. He fixes the time of the embalming at between 5 and 6 o'clock in the morning, three hours after Baker died.

Edward F. Baker has been informed that his brother determined to return to Boston to live, and he had so announced within an hour of his death. This reported decision to move may have accounted for the disappearance of some of the effects of the young man, but that he should decide to leave the Hurd house, which he had enjoyed so much, would have been a great surprise to those who knew how intimate he was with the Hurd family.

"The disastrous record of casualties to passengers in train accidents (1,182 killed) is due in large measure to accidents, which caused the death of 291 persons."

Third Wife Is a Spiritualist and Foretold Grandson's Death.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 8.—Dr. Horace Marvin, father of 4-year-old Horace Marvin, whose supposed kidnapping held the attention of the whole country last spring, has married Mrs. Flora M. Thornton Swift, mother of his late wife and grandmother of the little boy. This is his third marriage.

As a spiritualist Mrs. Swift became known during the search for the child through "revelations" she said she had received as to the child's whereabouts, first learning through spirits of his capture by kidnappers and later uttering a prediction of his death.

WIFE WHO FED CAT AT TABLE GETS DIVORCE

Joseph McCamley's Objections Not Sustained Either at Home or in Court.

Mrs. Minerva McCamley of 3542 Page boulevard has a divorce from Joseph McCamley, who objected to having the cat share the butter with him. Mrs. McCamley told about it on cross-examination in Judge Foster's court Thursday afternoon.

She was asked if her husband had not had occasion to complain about the liberties allowed to the family tabby. She replied that he had taken it upon himself to do so.

He came into the dining room one day, she testified, and found the cat on the table eating the butter. He became angry and said she would have to choose between him and the cat. Either the cat would leave or he would leave.

Says Husband Slipped Her. Later there was a final separation, and the wife sued for divorce. He filed a crossbill, but it was dismissed because he failed to comply with the orders of the court.

Mrs. McCamley said that her husband had slapped her many times. Once, she testified, after they separated, he followed her on the street in the daytime and slapped her.

They have two children, of which Mrs. McCamley was given the custody. The matter of alimony was taken under advisement. The couple were married in 1917 and separated last February.

ALARMING INCREASE IN ACCIDENTS TO PASSENGERS

Railroads of United States in Year Killed 5000 Persons; Injured 76,286 Others.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The Interstate Commerce Commission bulletin of accidents on railroads of the United States during the year ended June 30 last shows total casualties 81,286—5000 persons killed and 76,286 injured—an increase of 10.32 casualties, or 7.75 in the killed and 9.67 in the injured, as compared with the previous year. The bulletin says:

"The number of passengers killed and injured in collisions and derailments has increased to an alarming degree. The very large total reported in 1933 is exceeded by 17 per cent. The comparative smallness of the increases in casualties due to coupling and uncoupling cars and in accidents to men on top of freight cars is undoubtedly due in large measure to improvement in the maintenance and care of automatic couplers and to the increased use of air brakes on freight trains."

MARVIN WEDS MOTHER-IN-LAW

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 8.—Dr. Horace Marvin, father of 4-year-old Horace Marvin, whose supposed kidnapping held the attention of the whole country last spring, has married Mrs. Flora M. Thornton Swift, mother of his late wife and grandmother of the little boy. This is his third marriage.

As a spiritualist Mrs. Swift became known during the search for the child through "revelations" she said she had received as to the child's whereabouts, first learning through spirits of his capture by kidnappers and later uttering a prediction of his death.

JOSEPH McCAMLEY.

ONE BURNED TO DEATH, SIX HURT

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—One person was burned to death, six others were severely hurt and several rescued in a fire that destroyed a three-story building at 390 West Fourteenth street early today. Two policemen, who carried several children from the building, were slightly affected by the smoke.

Dead: Abraham Gellert, 16 years old. Injured: Mrs. Dora Levin, 25 years old, jumped from third-story window.

Mrs. Ray Benjamin, 27 years old, jumped from second-story window. Fireman Frank McMahon, fell from ladder while attempting to rescue a woman.

Mrs. N. Caplin, burned about face and overcome by smoke. Benjamin Levi, burned about face and hands in rescuing Mrs. Caplin. A. Ormski, burned about face while rescuing several children.

Policemen Egan and Miller were overcome by the smoke. Gellert lived with Mrs. Benjamin. His body was found in the ruins after the fire had been extinguished.

A fire, the cause of which has not yet been learned, broke out on the first floor of the building and spread so rapidly that none of the occupants had an opportunity to escape. Most of the inmates of the second and third floors were carried down ladders. Mrs. Caplin gave birth to a child yesterday. She was being overcome by the smoke and was prevented from leaping to the street by Levi, who carried her down. He himself was severely injured.

Policemen Egan and Miller carried out over a dozen small children.

FOUR YEARS TO DECIDE THAT CHURCH PIANO IS DEFECTIVE

Plaintiff Paid $100 for It, but Congregation Refused to Honor the Bill.

After four years' litigation and three trials, it has been established that the piano which Mrs. Mary Frances Joy sold to the Ohio Brilliant Presbyterian Church was defective and that Mrs. Joy is not entitled to the $100 which she expected to receive for it.

The piano was bought for the use of the Sunday school and delivered at the church. Mrs. Joy in a suit got judgment for $90. The case was appealed. A jury in the Circuit Court gave her a judgment for $112. The case was taken to the Court of Appeals and a new trial was ordered.

The third trial occupied two days in Judge Klusey's court. The jury returned a verdict against Mrs. Joy.

GOOD PRESCRIPTION CURES INDIGESTION

Go to any well stocked prescription druggist and get two ounces Essence of Peppin; three ounces Syrup of Ginger; one ounce Catandir Compound; mix these well and use in doses of from one to two teaspoonsful after each meal and also at bed time if constipated. This formula was recently given out by one of the most prominent metropolitan physicians, who declares that it has no equal for the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and all forms of stomach disorders, such as bloating, belching, sourness, etc. A well known local druggist, in speaking of this formula, stated that it is prescribed by the most up-to-date physicians. Catandir Compound being a comparatively new product, many of the old-style doctors are not familiar with it. He also says that its action on digestion of foods and restoring the stomach to its normal condition is truly remarkable, and that it is constantly being commended on by the medical and drug journals.

RICH JEWELER KILLED AS HE ROBS GOLD MILL

Accomplice Is Captured; Implicates Five Business Men in Confession.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
GOLDFIELD, Nev., Nov. 8.—V. L. Kline, a jeweler of this city, said to have been worth $100,000, was shot dead in a battle with a Sheriff's posse after he and an accomplice had been detected in the act of stealing the plates of the Nevada-Goldfield Reduction Co.'s plant, and Ralph S. Gipple, formerly local ticket agent of the Tonopah & Goldfield Railroad, is a prisoner at the county jail.

With their faces blackened, Kline and Gipple broke into the plant shortly before daylight. The Sheriff's men were secreted in the building, the plot having been revealed to them by the company's watchman.

When the officers showed themselves both robbers drew revolvers. Kline fell with a bullet in his head. Gipple jumped from a second-story window and escaped into the desert, but was captured at daylight by members of the posse who gave immediate chase.

Gipple Makes Confession.
At the jail Gipple broke down and confessed that he and Kline had been implicated in two previous robberies which netted them more than $10,000. He also implicated five other well-known citizens, who, investigation showed, have suddenly disappeared. Deputy sheriffs are in pursuit of them.

Kline was a young man of good education and affable manner. Gipple is also young, and both were well liked. The five others implicated in Gipple's confession are all business men.

ROOT TO QUIT THE CABINET, HE TELLS FRIENDS

Intends to Retire Permanently From Political Life by January Next.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Elihu Root, Secretary of State, is to retire from President Roosevelt's Cabinet within a month or two. Incidentally, he will quit political life permanently. It is the second time Mr. Root has made up his mind that the practice of law is more to his liking than the intricacies of international diplomacy, but this time, he has confided to friends, he means to keep his word, though a presidential boom had been started for him by Senator Scott of West Virginia.

When Mr. Root retires he probably will be succeeded by Assistant Secretary Bacon. The fact that Mr. Root will not now permit his friends to make any efforts to secure the New York delegation to the Republican National Convention points to his permanent retirement in the political world, with which he has never been delighted. He would not have re-entered the Cabinet but for the urgent insistence of President Roosevelt, who has long recognized his eminent abilities.

Has Told Roosevelt.
Retiring from the position of Secretary of War in January, 1904, after he had been with Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt five years, he fully intended never to go back into public office. The death of John Hay caused President Roosevelt to urge Mr. Root to become his right-hand man in international matters. In January he will have held the position two years and a half, and that is about as much as he wants. If he can get out of the Cabinet before January he will do so, but he will not remain any longer than he can avoid. He has told the President of his wishes in this respect and the President will reluctantly consent.

Mr. Root's health and his disinclination to remain in public life are the basis of his present intention to retire as quickly as possible. He has worked so hard that his nervous system is in anything but a satisfactory condition. Rest and exercise for a month last summer benefited him much, but resumption of arduous mental work has brought on a return of the symptoms. His closest friends have informed him that he needs rest, at any rate, and change, which he can find to better advantage in his law office than in any other way. He is of the same opinion.

Cause and Effect.
From Judge.
Jealous Sutor: Of course he clasped you in his arms when the boat upset?
Fashion Plate: No; just the opposite.
Jealous Sutor: Just the opposite? What do you mean?
Fashion Plate: Why, the boat upset when he clasped me in his arms.

THESE Shoes were made up for various retailers by the Mullens Shoe Co., Boston, and were canceled. In order to get them off their hands the entire lot was closed out to us at a sacrifice. That's how we are able to offer them at such a great reduction. They come in button, lace and Blucher; in all leathers, including patent colt, vici kid and new Chrome calf; strictly waterproof. A glance at the shoes will satisfy you of their merits. All sizes from 6 to 11, and widths from A to E; priced, per pair, $2.95.
A number of Men's Shoes that are slightly checked and marred, in broken styles; $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00 grades; sizes 5½ to 11; at, per pair, $2.19.

The Greatest Clothing Offer of the Day

ABOUT $30,000 worth of fine Clothing is embraced in this great sale, bought for spot cash at 60 cents on the dollar from two New York manufacturers, who were compelled to raise money immediately. Under no other circumstances could we have secured the enormous price concessions that were made us, and under no other circumstances would we be able to offer such marvelous Clothing values at this season of the year. Make your selections now while the assortments are most complete.

"Diabolo" Is the Game of the Day

THIS ancient game deserves well to be brought back to light again. It was played centuries ago and has been practised until recently by a few people only. Many who bought boxes of a sort of game and found this game in it, the contents were ignorant as to its use, but our great-grandfather could have told them.
It is very interesting and develops the lungs as well as the muscles of the arms.

The trick is to take the so-called "Devil" on the string and make it revolve by an up-and-down movement of the arms. With a little practice one succeeds in making the Devil spin hard, and is able to throw it up in the air and catch it on a string, or send it a distance to another place. There is a wide range of prices for this game, 25¢ and upward.

WOMAN PLUNGER, TWENTY GIRL FRED, WANTS TO RETURN TO JAIL OPERATORS RUSH BACK FOR JOBS

Feminine Speculator, Who Lost $40,000, Prefers
Cell to Liberty.

Led by Mrs. Flora Potter, They
Cheer and March to W.
U. Offices.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Miss Rose Haines, who spent a fortune on the open Board or Trade, expressed a desire yesterday to remain in the woman's quarters of the County Jail rather than be released on parole to a relative living at Mel-lam, Wis.

"Can't I go back to jail?" she asked of Assistant State's Attorney Young after she had pleaded guilty to two charges of grand larceny and Judge Gibbons had ordered her paroled.

"I have made a good many friends
there and can have a pretty good time.
It is really a pleasant, homelike place.

Willful to Take Punishment.
"My people wouldn't even bring me a clean shirtwaist while I was in jail.
I can take care of myself and I am willing to take my punishment."

Mr. Young explained to her that she could go back to Judge Gibbons and withdraw her plea of guilty. She did not return to court during the afternoon.

Miss Haines is 35 years old. Her father was the late Matthew Haines, from whom she inherited a fortune of $40,000, which she lost in speculation.

She was arrested for stealing diamonds. She has been in jail two months, her relatives refusing to obtain bond for her.

paper can get Associated Press dispatches.

PLEA FOR BIG NAVY MADE BY EDUCATOR

Dr. Henry S. Pritchett Recalls
Words of Washington at Club
Dinner Here.

At the thirty-seventh regular meeting of the Contemporary Club last night at Hotel Jefferson, Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, the speaker of the evening, based his plea for a stronger navy on the axiom uttered by Washington more than a century ago: "It is no use to expect disinterested action between nations."

Dr. Pritchett agreed heartily with President Roosevelt in his doctrine that the navy is the United States' safeguard, and that it must be strengthened. The subject of the address was "Does a Strong Navy Make for Peace or War?"

More than two hundred covers were laid at the dinner. At the head table were seated Dr. Pritchett, Edmund H.
Sears, principal of Mary Institute; F.
Louis Soltan, superintendent of the St.
Louis Public Schools; Rev. John Day,
D. C. Elliott, John Shupey and R. S.
Brookings.

Catarrh of the Stomach

A Most Dangerous Disease, Which Causes Serious Results, Unless Properly Treated.

Catarrh of the Stomach is very common and is known as one of the most obstinate diseases, which, when neglected or improperly treated with cheap patent medicines, tonics, drugs, pills and other secret quick remedies results in a broken down constitution and often consumption and death.

Catarrh of the Stomach, like every other disease of the stomach, except cancer, is a result of poor digestion.
The digestive organs have become weak, there is a lack of gastric juice, your food is only half digested, and as a result you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, heartburn, vomiting, water-brash, tenderness at pit of stomach, slimy tongue, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, pain in limbs and face, sleeplessness, nausea, belching of gas, diarrhoea, sick headache, dizziness, mental depression, nervous weakness, and many other common symptoms.

If your stomach cannot digest the food you eat, then the stomach needs a rest, as that is the only way you can get rid of your catarrh, but in the meantime your body needs plenty of nourishment, because you must live, and in order to live you must eat, and if you must eat, your food must be properly digested, and if your stomach is too weak to do the work, then you must get a substitute to do the work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the only known substitute that will digest your food as well as any healthy stomach. They contain vegetable and fruit essences, aseptic pepsin (government), golden seal and diastase, the very elements necessary to digest all foods.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a secret remedy, and for that reason thousands of physicians all over the United States recommend them to their patients for catarrh of the stomach, dyspepsia of all kinds, and other stomach troubles. Experiments and tests have proven that one grain of the active principle contained in these tablets will digest 3000 grains of food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are in the form of pleasant-tasting tablets or lozenges and are sold in large fifty-cent boxes at all drug stores.

Send us your name and address and we will send you a free sample package. The relief you will get from this trial package will convince you of the merits of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Twenty girl telegraph operators, defeated after a three months' strike for higher wages, shorter hours and union principles, swooped down upon General Manager Bohle and Chief Operator Belman of the Western Union Telegraph Co. at 8:30 a. m. Friday and asked for reinstatement.

A few were taken back and sent out to open branch offices, and the addresses of the others were filed for future reference.

The girls met at union headquarters, 222 Laclede Building, early Friday morning, the strike having been declared on Thursday night by a vote of the local union. The men strikers had decided that the girls must have the first opportunity to get back. Of the 60 girls who first struck not more than 25 remained to the end of the strike.

The officials of the union did not appear at headquarters, although the girls waited for more than an hour.

Waited for Union Men.
By general consent the girls decided that they would not wait for President Ewing or Secretary Boyer later than 8:30. When neither official had appeared at that time, the girls, headed by Mrs.
Flora Potter, formerly stenographer to Chief Operator Bellman, rushed out of headquarters.

They cheered lustily as they marched through the corridors and down the stairs. They went first to the office of Manager Bohle on the first floor of the Commercial Building. He was in Chief Operator Bellman's office on the seventh floor, but when he was informed that the girls had come to seek their old places he went downstairs to greet them.

The girls faced Manager Bohle bravely, and he took them up to Chief Bellman's office. Mrs. Potter, at the head of the procession, was greeted kindly by Mr. Bellman, who was considerably flustered over the "appearance" of the girls in a body.

Finding that he could not handle them all quietly in his office, which is in the center of the big operating room, and that the 30 other employees were "rubbering," Mr. Bellman sent the applicants to the waiting room on the sixth floor, saying that he would see them later and take their applications. Mrs.
Potter lingered and made an earnest plea for the reinstatement of the girls.
Tears were dropping from her eyes as she went away.

The girls felt considerable timidity about asking for their old places.

Has a Union Heart.
"What are you going to tell Mr. Belman, Mary, if he asks you why you struck?" asked one girl.

"I shall tell him 'Because I have a union heart,'" responded Mary.

"I hate to go back after being beaten-ed," said another girl. "What do you suppose those nonunion workers will say to us? O. K. I'll speak to any of them. I'll just mind my own business and work extra, so that I can get that pretty hat I saw in a millinery store on Broadway."

Chief Operator Bellman said he could not possibly find places for all the striking girls, but that he would use as many as he needed. He said he would have a long extra, and try to give all the desirable operators an opportunity to earn some money.

"Bad as the girls feel about this matter," said Mr. Bellman, "I am sure that I feel worse. We had a fine class of operators here before the strike, and we got along nicely. I am sorry for them, but of course it will be impossible to find room for anything like half of those who are now out of employment."

The strike was declared off by a vote of 175 to 37. The meeting was held at the St. Louis Democratic Club.

The men strikers asked for reinstatement at 10 a. m. They gathered at union headquarters, and then went quietly to the managers of the Postal and Western Union offices to seek their old jobs.

No Choice for Leaders.
Few of the strikers were successful in getting immediate employment. They hope that with the strike called off throughout the country there will be such an increase in the telegraph business that places can be found for all efficient operators.

The threat of the union leaders to call a strike next spring, unless certain demands are granted, has caused the managers of the companies to use caution in taking the strikers back.

One official said Friday that the strike leaders would not be employed anywhere in the system.

At the Postal offices it was stated that not more than six strikers received employment. The Western Union took on 12 men, and about half a dozen girls.

Mrs. James Tracy, a member of the Executive Board of the union, applied to the Postal for reinstatement, but was informed that an application from her was not desired.

MULVIHILL WILL TRY TO STOP SALOON SPECULATION

Caution to Be Exercised in Granting More Than One License to One Man.

Caution will be exercised hereafter in issuing more than one license to any one saloon keeper. Excise Commissioner Mulvihill has announced as the sequel to his action revoking the privileges of John T. Barret, a private watchman, who conducted a dramshop at the southwest corner of Twenty-second street and Cass avenue. Barret was accused of selling liquor to a minor.

Most of the disorders reported to Mr.
Mulvihill, he says, are traceable to saloon keepers' practice of permitting irresponsible men to manage their establishments. Many saloon keepers now operate more than one bar.

Commissioner Mulvihill has learned, he says, that many persons obtain licenses and establish saloons with a view of selling them at a profit, and not with the intention of permanently engaging in the business themselves.
He opposes this.

WOMAN PLUNGER, TWENTY GIRL FREED, WANTS TO OPERATORS RUSH RETURN TO JAIL BACK FOR JOBS

Feminine Speculator, Who
Lost $40,000, Prefers
Cell to Liberty.
Led by Mrs. Flora Potter, They
Cheer and March to W.
U. Offices.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Miss Rose Haines, who spent a fortune on the open Board of Trade, expressed a desire yesterday to remain in the woman's quarters of the County Jail rather than be released on parole to a relative living at Mel-lam, Wis.
"Can't I go back to jail?" she asked of Assistant State's Attorney Young after she had pleaded guilty to two charges of grand larceny and Judge Gibbons had ordered her paroled.
"I have made a good many friends there and can have a pretty good time. It is really a pleasant, homelike place."
Willing to Take Punishment.
"My people wouldn't even bring me a clean shirtwaist while I was in jail. I can take care of myself and I am willing to take my punishment."
Mr. Young explained to her that she could go back to Judge Gibbons and withdraw her plea of guilty. She did not return to court during the after-noon.
Miss Haines is 35 years old. Her father was the late Matthew Haines, from whom she inherited a fortune of $40,000, which she lost in speculation.
She was arrested for stealing dia-monds. She has been in jail two months, her relatives refusing to obtain bond for her.

PLEA FOR BIG NAVY MADE BY EDUCATOR

Dr. Henry S. Pritchett Recalls
Dinner Here.

At the thirty-seventh regular meeting of the Contemporary Club last night, Hotel Jefferson, Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, the speaker of the evening, based his plea for a stronger navy on the axiom uttered by Washington more than a cen-tury ago: "It is idle to expect disinter-ested action between nations."
Dr. Pritchett agreed heartily with President Roosevelt in his doctrine that the navy is the United States' safe-guard, and that it must be strength-ened. The subject of his address was "Does a Strong Navy Make for Peace or War?"
More than two hundred covers were laid at the dinner. At the head table were seated Dr. Pritchett, Edmund H. Sears, principal of Mary Institute; F. Louis Seldin, superintendent of the St. Louis Public Schools; Rev. John Day, E. C. Elliott, John Shepley and R. S. Brookings.

Catarrh of the Stomach

A Most Dangerous Disease, Which Causes Serious Results, Unless
Properly Treated.

Catarrh of the Stomach is very com-mon and is known as one of the most obstinate diseases, which, when neg-lected or improperly treated with cheap patent medicines, tonics, drugs, pills and other secret quack remedies results in a broken down constitution and often consumption and death.
Catarrh of the Stomach, like every other disease of the stomach, except cancer, is the result of poor digestion. The digestive organs have become weak, there is a lack of gastric juice, your food is only half digested, and as a result you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, heartburn, vomiting, water-brush, tenderness at pit of stomach, slimy tongue, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, pain in limbs and face, sleeplessness, nausea, belching of gas, diarrhoea, sick, headache, dizziness, mental depression, nervous weakness, and many other common symptoms.
If your stomach cannot digest the food you eat, then the stomach needs a rest, as that is the only way you can get rid of your catarrh, but in the meantime your body needs plenty of nourishment, because you must live, and in order to live you must eat, and if you must eat, your food must be properly digested, and if your stomach is too weak to do the work, then you must get a substitute to do the work.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the only known substitute that will digest your food as well as any healthy stomach. They contain vegetable and fruit essences, aseptic pepsin (gov. test), golden seal and diastase, the very elements necessary to digest all foods.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a secret remedy, and for that reason thousands of physicians all over the United States recommend them to their patients for catarrh of the stom-ach, dyspepsia of all kinds, and other stomach troubles. Experiments and tests have proven that one grain of the active principle contained in these ta-blets will digest 3000 grains of food.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are in the form of pleasant-tasting tablets or lozenges and are sold in large fifty-cent boxes at all drug stores.
Send us your name and address and we will send you a free sample pack-age. The relief you will get from this trial package alone will convince you of the merits of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

SUED FOR DIVORCE, SAYS HE'S SINGLE

Fred E. Gerding and Mrs. E. C.
Gerding Dispute Point in Court.

Mrs. Esther Caroline Gerding of 4007 Locust place and Fred E. Gerding cannot agree as to whether they have been married. Mrs. Gerding says she is positive that they have been.
She has a certificate and she declares that she can produce the minister who married them and others to prove it.
Fred just as positively insists that Mrs. Gerding is mistaken.

Mrs. Gerding is suing Gerding to have dissolved the bonds which he declares do not exist. She alleges that she was married to him Jan. 17, 1906, in St. Charles. He has filed an answer in which he says that he did not marry her at St. Charles or any place else.

The case came up Thursday in Judge Foster's court on a motion for alimony. Mrs. Gerding testified to the marriage. She said that Gerding married her under the assumed name of Krughoff. Fred took the stand.
He was asked if he was the defendant in the case.

Denies Being Married.

"I don't know whether I am or not,"
he said.

"Were you married at St. Charles to the plaintiff?"

"Positively not."

He denied that he had ever assumed the name of Krughoff. He said that he came to St. Louis from Kansas City Jan. 15, 1905, with the intention of taking the plaintiff to Kansas City and marrying her there, but that he did not do so. He admitted that he had written letters to her in which he addressed her as his wife, but said that he did that to protect her. The couple have one child.

The records of St. Charles show that Frederick Krughoff and Caroline Meyers, who gave their address as Hugely, Ill., were married there Jan. 17, 1906, by Rey I. W. Ely.

COYNE KICKED BY HORSE AS HE WATCHED BABY

Indicted Asphalt Man May Be Paralyzed by Blow on Temple.

William R. Coyne, under indictment for perjury in the Municipal Assembly asphalt paving investigation, narrowly escaped death from the blow of a horse's hoof at his home, 5124 Easton avenue.
The fact that he was kicked is due largely to his efforts to save his 3-year-old son "Jim" from being injured.
Coyne was kicked on the right side of the head, which was violently bruised. He complains of numbness and coldness on the left side. His family fear partial paralysis. Dr. M. A.
Hiles of 629 Lotus avenue, who attended him, says that what the family fears may result.

The horse that kicked Coyne is a blooded mare belonging to Mrs. Coyne.
The animal is kept in a box stall in the rear of the building occupied by Coyne's real estate office on the lower floor and the Coyne flat on the upper floor.

Kicked as He Stopped.

Between 9 and 10 a. m. Thursday
Coyne stepped into the animal's stall.
His foot caught and passed under the stall bar. His arm was away from the horse and directed toward the baby
"Jim." He feared that the child would try to follow him into the stall. The mare, without any warning, dealt him a blow with a hind foot.

He was knocked, stunned, to the floor of the stable, where employees of the Coyne Realty Co. picked him up and carried him upstairs to his flat. Only a soothing liniment was applied to the wound at first, but Thursday evening when he began complaining of numbness in his left side and began having difficulty in articulation, Dr. Hiles was called.

Would-Be Secret Struck by Car
William J. Boas, 21 years old Seymour, Mo., who was struck by west-bound Olive car at Twenty and street and hurried several decades at the City Hospital. He came Louis Thursday to enlist in the ed States army, but arrived too late so on that day. He was on way to a restaurant at the time the accident.

Former Teacher Finds His Third Bride in Woman He Knew
During Childhood.

For 40 long years the whereabouts of a school teacher and his pupil were unknown each other, but today they are man and wife and traveling on their honeymoon.

Mrs. Mary Erskine, 4137 West Belle place, widow of Frank Erskine, a wealthy St. Louis merchant, was married Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock to W.
H. H. Tainter at the home of the bride.
Mrs. Tainter is now 48 years old and her husband is 61. He is a city employee at Kansas City.

Mrs. Tainter was born in Berger, Mo.
While as Mary Alteman, she was attending school, she had for her teacher her present husband and when Tainter resigned his position he was 21 and his pupil 8 years old. The teacher was fond of his apt little pupil and never forgot her in all the years intervening.
Tainter had been married twice previous to his present romance, but his former wives were lost to him by death.
He had been a widower four years, the same time Mrs. Tainter had been a widow.

The names of the school teacher and his pupil were mentioned in a letter to Mr. Tainter written by a friend and he wrote immediately to Mrs. Erskine and old times were recalled. Their engagement was kept secret in the family and only Mrs. Tainter's two sons, Green and Lucian Erskine, 16 and 18 years old, respectively, attended the wedding. Mr.
Tainter has children by both his former wives.

WEST DEMANDS SHARE OF CASH

Senator Heyburn of Idaho Makes a Protest to Roosevelt.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Protest was made to President Roosevelt by Senator Heyburn of Idaho today against the further deposit of Government money with New York banks until those institutions consent to pay the reserves of Western banks in cash instead of cashier's checks. He said crops could not be moved on checks. The President had the Senator present his views in writing. In this document Senator Heyburn says:

"The tying up of many millions of dollars of Western money representing the reserves of the Western banks held by New York banks must inevitably result in empowering the New York banks to determine the time and conditions of a free resumption of banking functions by the Western banks, whereas, if the reserves of the Western banks could be converted into available money at once, the financial situation of the West would be free from domination on the part of the East and the West would become a valuable ally of the financial conditions, rather than remain, as at present, a fellow sufferer."

RUNAWAY KNOCKS WOMAN DOWN

Horse Hitched to Undertaker's Vehicle Hits Brewery Wagon.

A horse hitched to an undertaker's wagon and driven by Thomas Clarandot of 418 Shenandoah avenue ran away at St. Vincent and Olive avenues Thursday afternoon.

At Park avenue, a block north, it knocked down Mrs. Little Nichols of 2312 Wyoming street, spraining her ankle. The horse came to a stop a minute later when it collided with a buggy owned by a brewery company.

Husband of a Month Is Missing.

Mrs. Claude Burr of 1114 St. Ange avenue, whose husband kissed her good-by a week ago, telling her he was going to look for work and has not been seen by her since, thinks he may have gone to his relatives in Indiana. Burr, who was a bookkeeper, had been married only a month.

and 40 Minutes.

SHE CARRIED $12,000,000

Clipped 72 Minutes From Voyage Which First Made Her Queen of Seas.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The marvelous record established less than a month ago by the giant turbine Cunarder Lusitania, when she cut several hours from the passage time across the Atlantic, has been shattered. The Lusitania herself still retains the title of Queen of the Seas, as it was she that established the new low mark, and incidentally added several new records to her credit.

These include the best single day's run—618 knots, made Nov. 6—an average of more than 60 knots for every full day, and an average hourly speed of 24.25 knots for the full 281 miles.

On her last voyage, the Lusitania covered the distance in 4 days, 18 hours and 40 minutes. The voyage ended today over the same course was completed in 4 days, 18 hours and 40 minutes, thus clipping 1 hour and 12 minutes from the previous low mark. And this was done in the face of conditions none too favorable.

From the start the weather was stormy and on the last two days when the big steamer was on the home stretch, where the greatest burst of speed might have been expected, she dropped straight into the teeth of a strong wind, high seas and occasional sharp squalls. The day run for the voyage, were 21, 66, 68, 69 and 210 knots.

Carried $12,000,000 in Gold.

In the Lusitania's big vaults was stored nearly $12,000,000 in gold, more than a quarter of the immense total which has been engaged abroad by American bankers since the present almost unprecedented movement began. This gold will be transferred from the steamer to the consignees and then added to the country's available circulation of currency.

FINEST MUSEUM FOR ST. LOUIS

Phenomenal Kraus Forced by Rapidly Growing Business to Lease More Buildings.

So great has been the demand of the alling become upon Phenomenal Kraus and his corps of 20 or more medical experts that, it is declared, he has been compelled to again increase his facilities.

In addition to the score of rooms contained in the two floors at 523 Chestnut street, where, it is said, the halls, reception rooms, offices and even stairways are crowded daily with people said to be incurable, seeking relief, that more room is needed.

Phenomenal Kraus announces that in addition to these offices, which he says he has leased for a term of years, he has also leased for the same term from the Nicholas Realty Co. a large mansion on Olive street for the overflow of patients from downtown, where more medical experts will be employed, that he has leased from the Blumenkranz Realty Co. two large store rooms, where he says he will install the finest museum of anatomy for men and women in the world.

"I believe in progress and thoroughness," says this unusual man, "and nothing that money can buy is too good for my specialists to use in the treatment of their patients."

Pork Sausage and Buckwheat cakes are now in season and we are serving them at the Saddle, 204 N. 6th st.

OLEO DEALERS ARE FINED $100

Henry E. Knapp and Frank Dwyer Enter Pleas of Guilty.

Henry E. Knapp and Frank Dwyer, oleomargarine dealers who were recently indicted by the Federal grand jury on charges of selling unstamped oleo, were arraigned before Judge Dyer in the United States District Court Friday morning. They pleaded guilty and were fined $100 and costs each.

Improve Service C. B. & Q. R. R.

Commencing Sunday, Nov. 10, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Co. will establish new through service between St. Louis and St. Paul and Minneapolis. The train will carry electric lighted latest pattern Pullman standard sleeper and safe observation car. It will leave St. Louis 2:35 p. m. daily, arriving at St. Paul at 8 and Minneapolis 8:30 next morning, this being the shortest line between St. Louis and the Twin Cities. The train will be named the "Twin City Express."

Underestimated.

AGED FATHER FAILS IN HIS EFFORT TO CONVICT HIS SON

B. F. Durfee of Kirkwood Dismissed on Perjury Charge at Clayton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Durfee of Kirkwood, Mo., who sold a cow, their last possession, to go to Clayton for appearance against their son, B. F. Durfee of Kirkwood, accused of perjury, failed in their effort to convict him. The aged father testified that he had borrowed $35 of his son and had given a deed to his Kookuk home with the understanding that he was to occupy the property until his death. The perjury charge grew out of the son's affidavit that he had signed no such agreement. It developed at the trial Thursday that the contract forwarded to the father was not the one actually signed by the son, there having been a mistake made in the mailing of the document. On this presentation of facts the case against the son was dismissed.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her. The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart. It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure. The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N. Y. She writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble, and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble, and I am now in better health than I have been for many years." This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female ailments are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

BURGLAR HOLDS FAMILY AT BAY

Benjamin Billings Shoots Five Times at Negro as He Climbs Fence, but Misses.

A yellow negro about 5 feet 6 inches tall, wearing a black slouch hat, held Benjamin Billings, a mail clerk for the Missouri Pacific, living at 1379 Granville place, and his family at bay with a revolver while he escaped from the back stairs and through the rear yard early Friday morning, after he had been surprised by Billings while ransacking a bureau in his bed room.

As the negro was disappearing over the back fence, Billings, from a second-story window, fired five shots at him without effect. Policeman Donohue of the Mounted District heard the shots and reached the house in time to see the negro running down the street. He gave chase, but was outdistanced.

The negro gained entrance to the house by breaking a catch on the back door. He went upstairs into Billings' room, where he stole $10 and a $40 gold watch before he awakened Billings by flashing his light in the sleeping man's face.

When Billings rose in bed, the thief said: "Don't make a noise or I'll kill you." Billings disregarded the warning by yelling and arousing the rest of the family.

Backing slowly through the bed room door, the negro kept Billings "covered" with the revolver, threatening to kill him if he moved. The other occupants were in the front part of the house calling for help. The negro backed down the steps and, threatening any one who pursued him, dashed across the back yard.

LIVING IN TENT FOR HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. James Maupin, who prefer a honeymoon in the open to the conventional bridal tour are snugly installed in their tent home near Kampsville, on the Illinois River. They will remain in there a week hunting and fishing.

They were married at Alton Wednesday and their friends understood that they were going to leave at once for New Orleans. Instead they came to St. Louis and bought a complete camping outfit, including a short skirt and leggings for the bride, corduroy trousers for the bridegroom and a plentiful supply of ammunition and fishing tackle.

Both lived in Alton and worked in St. Louis. Their courtship was conducted on an accommodation train, and it was there that they told each other of their love for hunting and fishing and the free life of the woods. The inspiration for their old honeymoon came from Owen Wister's "The Virginian," which Maupin read to the young woman on the train.

BANK REFUSES TO PAY CASH TO NEW YORK POLICEMEN

Bought $30,000,000 City's Bonds, but Demands That Checks Pass Through Clearing House.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Although the city government a few days ago sold to a syndicate of bankers, through J. P. Morgan & Co., $30,000,000 of municipal revenue bonds for the sole purpose of raising money to meet current expenses, the National City Bank, which obtained the largest part of the bonds, flatly refused today to give cash to policemen and other city employees, who presented signed city orders.

The bank officials declared that the checks must be deposited in some bank and pass through the clearing house. This rule was enforced to obviate the necessity of paying currency over the counter.

CHICAGO JUDGE DECLARES WAR ON BLOOD-AND-THUNDER PLAYS IN CHEAP THEATERS

When Little Boys Admit $500 Theft Court Says It's Time for Public to Wake Up.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—"I think it is time for the people of Chicago to exhibit moral stamina enough to annihilate plays in which bandits and desperadoes are made to pose as heroes, and I am going to start the ball rolling right now."

With these words Judge Peit, sitting in the Sheffield Avenue Court, began a bitter denunciation of the trashy or "vicious" theater. The judge had before him seven little boys whose minds had been poisoned by the character of plays he referred to.

As a result of what he learned the judge ordered the police to have the manager of a small theater in Lincoln avenue brought before him today.

The boys were arrested in a vacant lot where they were sitting around a bonfire feasting on preserves and other sweets stolen from pantries in the neighborhood. Stole keys and revolvers were found in their possession, and in addition to the sweets they confessed robbing houses of property valued at $500 within the last fortnight.

GRAND JURY IS ON TRAIL OF "KID" WILSON'S SLAYER

Code of Silence Binding "Jolly Five" Club Members Hinder the Crime Inquiry.

The killing of James (Kid) Wilson, who was found mortally wounded on North Ninth street, between Wash and Carr streets, at 12:45 a. m. on Oct. 22, will be investigated by the grand jury Friday afternoon. Thomas Egan, a former deputy constable and saloon keeper, is charged with the killing.

Wilson and Egan both were said to be members of the "Jolly Five" Club, an organization which forbids its members to "snitch" when shot. Several killings of club members have baffled the police because the victim refused to give the name of his assailant in an ante-mortem statement.

At the grand jury investigation several negroes, said to be eye-witnesses, are expected to testify.

A Popular Food Delicacy.

Karo Corn Syrup is a clear, golden syrup of the golden grain, so exquisitely good that it makes giddle cakes, waffles, biscuits, etc., fairly melt in one's mouth. It is delightful as a spread for bread. Housewives claim that its peculiarly delicate and pleasing flavor make Karo unapproached for baking, candy making or for any use where syrup is employed as a sweetening agent.

More than this, Karo Corn Syrup is a food of remarkable value, so nutritious and sustaining has it proven to be. It delights and benefits the old and young, the weak and strong, digesting with practically no tax upon the system. Because of its wholesomeness and natural purity, it has received the unqualified indorsement of food experts.

Massa-Loven Saloon License.

Victor Massa, proprietor of three saloons, was ordered by Excise Commissioner Mulvihill Friday to close the one at 6113 Easton avenue. He was accused of selling to minors there. It has been Mr. Mulvihill's custom to revoke all the licenses of saloon men who offend in any of their establishments, but he said that in the Massa case he considered the single closing order sufficient, as there were "extenuating circumstances."

BOY SCALPERS ON INDIAN TRAIL REPENT IN CELL

"Our Heroes" Rob Hardware Store of Artillery and Knives.

ONE YOUTH GETS AWAY
Other Two Arrested Confess Plot to Annihilate the Red Men.

The few noble red men remaining in this country will breathe easier when they learn that two of three youthful would-be desperadoes, who stopped in St. Louis long enough to break into a sporting goods store and steal small artillery and scalping knives, are locked up and that detectives are hot on the trail of the third. The captive Indian scalpers are Morris A. Hughes, aged 16 of South Omaha, and Russell Hull, also 16 of Sioux City.

The youth who will be a bad man if he isn't caught and sent home is Omar Gibbons, said to be the son of a Sioux City lawyer. According to the two boys arrested, Omar was the leader of the Wild West expedition. Information for burglary in the second degree, charging that the three boys broke into the sporting goods store of R. J. Leacock, 310 Pine street, six revolvers, two dozen pocket knives, several pistols and safety razors, cartridges, target pistol, woolen sweater and a pair of handkerchiefs, were issued by Assistant Circuit Attorney Summers Friday.

Looked for Big Game.
The boys said they expected to hand-cut all of the real wild Indians they captured before scalping them. The trio of youthful desperadoes, check full of Ned Taylor, a Tip-Top Weekly idea, got into town early in the week, having come around by way of Chicago. As they were passing the store Gibbons, according to the two boys under arrest, saw that he could gain entrance by climbing up the fire escape. He went up and broke the glass, raised the window and crawled inside.

The other boys followed. They went down to the balcony office, broke open a cash drawer and got $13.55. They then went through the store and helped themselves to everything they thought boys needed for a Wild West expedition.

They made the mistake of selling some of the revolvers to a second-hand dealer on Morgan street. As Russell Hull stepped out of the store with a big automatic revolver buckled around his waist, he attracted the attention of Detectives Lerd and Schrader. He admitted that he and the other boys had robbed the Leacock store.

Buried Pistols.
The Hughes boy was found at 410 Market street. The boys took the detectives to a lot at Twelfth and Morgan streets, where they had buried some of the pistols, but there they found a negro had dug them up and pawned them. In an outhouse at 124 Linden street some of the knives and dirks were found, and a target pistol was recovered from bales of hay on the levee at the foot of Market street.

The Hull boy had $15.50 in quarters in his pocket when he was arrested. The boys said they were headed for Goldfield, Nev., where they expected to make a fortune, and then they were going out to have some real fun with the Indians.

HILL TO SUCCEED TOWER AT BERLIN

Present Ambassador to Germany Will Retire on Account of Ill Health.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Secretary Root announced today that David Jayne Hill, American Minister to the Netherlands, and a former Assistant Secretary of State, will be named as Ambassador to Berlin to succeed Mr. Tower, who is about to retire on account of ill health. Mr. Hill has had great experience in the diplomatic service. He speaks German fluently and it is said his appointment will give great satisfaction to Germany. President Roosevelt first offered the post to Assistant Secretary Bacon, who declined it, as he preferred to remain in his present position at the State Department.

THEY WOULD INDICT RAILROADS

West Enders Declare Smoke and Noise Nuisance Unnecessary.
At a meeting of the West End Protective Association Thursday night it was decided to present evidence for the indictment of the Wabash and Chicago, St. Louis and Pacific railroads for polluting a nuisance in the West End.

The noise made in switching is unnecessary, according to the leaders of the association, and the smoke of engines is detrimental to the health of residents, the association believes. It was proposed to swear out warrants to arrest the heads of the railroads.

The Board of Public Improvements was criticised for its delay in not reporting ordinances providing for the depression of the tracks from Forest Park to the city limits.

MASONIC TEMPLE CORNERSTONE

Ex-Gov. Dockery Will Speak at Exercises Saturday.

Ex-Governor A. M. Dockery will preside at the cornerstone laying of the new temple of the Tuscan Lodge, No. 280, of the Masonic order, Saturday afternoon, at King's highway and Westminster place. The new building will cost $50,000. All lodges in the city have been invited to participate in the ceremony.

Mr. Dockery is substituting for Grand Master Judge Davis Wilson of Milan, Mo., who is sitting in the Circuit Court of Sullivan County. A. D. Groves, principal architect of the lodge, and James S. McIntyre, master of the lodge, will make addresses.

OLD DAN'S RECORD AGAINST HIM

Judge Pollard Refuses to Free Prisoner When Requested.

William Tucker of 471 Page avenue is better known to the Dayton Street Police Court than "Old Dan Tucker," according to Judge Pollard, before whom Tucker was arraigned Friday morning. Tucker and William Manning of 3504

Class avenue were arrested on suspicion of being complicated in robbing Dennis Neskal of 234 Rutgers street at Spring and Elston avenues.

Neskal did not appear to give his evidence and Assistant City Attorney Levy wanted the charges against the prisoners dismissed.

"No, I will continue these cases," said Judge Pollard. "Tucker's name appears on nearly every page of this docket."

REFUSED $800 A WEEK; DIES IN A POORHOUSE

Sensitive Midget Once Had Big Offer From P. T. Barnum, the Circus Man.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NORFOLK, Conn., Nov. 8.—John Harding, to whom P. T. Barnum offered $800 a week to exhibit himself, died in the poorhouse here today. Harding's pride would never permit him to place himself on show with the midgets, the giants and the fat ladies; and so, while he might have amassed a considerable fortune, he died a pauper.

Nature was in a strange mood when she brought him into being. Harding was 43 years old, but he was no bigger than a normal 2-year-old baby.

ROBBERS BLOW MISSOURI POSTOFFICE SAFE. ESCAPE

Lawson Citizens Heard Explosion, but Made No Effort to Ascertain the Cause.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
LAWSON, Mo., Nov. 8.—Robbers entered the Postoffice here last night, blew open the safe, took all the contents and escaped, leaving no clue. They first broke into a blacksmith shop, where they obtained hammers and chisels, with which they pried open the doors of the Postoffice building. Several dollars in currency, a small amount of stamps and a gold watch were taken. The robbers evidently were expert cracksmen. Several persons heard an explosion about 2 o'clock this morning, but apparently did not make any effort to investigate it.

TRUSTEES DO BUSINESS FOR ASSIGNED HAT CONCERN

It Is Expected That Assets Will Cover the $140,000 Liabilities of Firm.

The business of the assigned McKonkin-Luttner Hat Co. was continued Friday by the trustees in an effort to realize as much as possible on the stock. John E. Bishop, counsel for the concern and one of the three trustees, said that it would be impossible for several days to give any specific statement as to the liabilities and assets.

The former are between $125,000 and $140,000, and the members of the firm believe the assets will cover them. The company assigned Thursday afternoon. It is capitalized at $100,000.

TAFT TO MEET WILLIAM; OTHER RULERS JEALOUS

British and French Ambassadors Making Inquiries at State Department.

ASK WHAT HE MEANS

Uneasiness Follows Announcement That Secretary Will See the Kaiser.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Emperor William will see Secretary Taft at Osborn House, Isle of Wight, during the former's visit to England. A message conveying this wish was sent through the German Embassy at Washington, it being understood that Mr. Taft has finally decided to return to the United States by way of Europe.

It is regarded as likely that Mr. Taft will also seek an audience with King Edward, as, for the American Secretary of War to visit the German Emperor on British soil without paying equivalent respect to the King of England might be regarded as discourteous.

So much has been said about Mr. Taft seeing the Emperor that some of the other governments have seemingly become curious in regard to whether anything out of the ordinary is intended by the step taken by the German Government.

Ambassadors Bryce and Jasseraud, it is asserted here, already have made inquiries on the subject at the State Department at Washington, and it is further asserted that there is a feeling at the foreign offices of London and Paris that Mr. Taft would be slighting King Edward and President Fallières if he did not ask to see them on his way home, or if he stopped only at St. Petersburg and Berlin en route homeward.

DOCTORS EXPECT CRUNDEN'S DEATH

Public Librarian, Ill Two Years, Can Live Only a Few Days, Say Physicians.

It is the opinion of attending physicians that Frederick N. Crunden, Public Librarian, has only a few days more to live. Mr. Crunden's condition is steadily growing worse and only Mrs. Crunden and close relatives are permitted to see him.

Dr. W. E. Fischer is treating his patient at the St. Luke's Hospital, where Mr. Crunden spent last winter, ill. In the winter of 1905 Mr. and Mrs. Crunden were in the East preparing to start on a European trip when Mr. Crunden was stricken with paralysis and he was compelled to remain in a sanitarium the rest of the winter.

The librarian's condition improved for a time, but while gaining strength in the Adirondack mountains last summer he overtaxed his strength. Dr. Fischer said that Mr. Crunden's brain has been affected from his suffering.

TO PREACH FROM THE SADDLE

New York Minister Is Called to the Ranches of Oregon.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—In need of a champion to fight vice in the mining camps and cattle ranches of Eastern Oregon, the West has turned to the East and selected Rev. Robert L. Paddock of New York as the man best suited to the task.

Mr. Paddock won renown as a fighter of evil in the "red light" district of this city. In 1901 he started the wave of reform which washed the lower East Side clean. At that time he was vicar of the pro-Cathedral in the part of the infected district.

Mr. Paddock said to a Post-Dispatch reporter: "This work in the West is not of my choosing, but just as a soldier is ordered into battle, so am I ordered on the firing line of missionary work in this country. My work there will be totally different to that here. There I will be a sky pilot, riding among the Indians and cattlemen. I will dress like a cattleman. My office will be in the saddle; I will have no fixed abode."

$50,000 to Be Raised in One Day.
On pages 6 and 7 of today's Post-Dispatch is a big double-page announcement of the extraordinary method to be used by the Globe Shoe and Clothing Co. to raise $50,000 in one day. Either checks or currency will be acceptable, and a cash discount or either one or the other will be given. In many ways the arrangements for this scheme are the most unique that St. Louisans have entertained for long time. Read the details of this enterprise on pages 6 and 7 of this issue.

GAZY SURE, SAYS POLICEMAN

Cannot Believe Sane Deserter Would Seek Punishment.

Policeman Balton of Central District believes a man's declaration that he is a deserter from the army and is seeking a recruiting officer to surrender, is sufficient evidence on which to send him to the observation ward at the City Hospital. Accordingly, when he heard such a story about 1:30 a. m. Friday from George W. Taylor, he arrested him.

Taylor says that he is 31 years old; and that he has been in the city one day. His home is in Luxembourg, O. He says he belonged to the Thirtieth Infantry, and that he deserted at Fort Leavenworth. He was arrested at Thirtieth street and Chestnut avenue.

HUSBAND SHOTS AN INTRUDER

To Shield Wife Detsch Said Man He Killed Was a Housebreaker.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—The story of Andrew G. Detsch that he shot Harry Ferree through the door of his wife's room in mistake for a burglar was refuted by the statement of Mrs. Detsch. The husband, having found compromising letters to his wife, stayed home unexpectedly Tuesday night. He is a traveling salesman. When the sound of stocking feet was heard in the hall and a knock came at the door, he ordered his wife to ask, "Who's there?" "Harry," came the low answer. Then Detsch fired five shots through the door, killing Ferree. To shield his wife, it is believed, Detsch claimed he thought Ferree a burglar.

Mrs. Detsch told her attorney the tragic story of her relations with Ferree. She repeatedly declared her determination to stand by her husband, who is in the city prison charged with murder.

STOP DRINKING!

Orrine Destroys Desire for Drink—How to Swear Off.

It was formerly customary for the habitual drinker to take the pledge regularly, sometimes once a year, and sometimes in every month of remorse that followed his debauches, and then—Break it.

But now it is gradually dawning on the world that there is no need of such a thing. When a man takes a pledge voluntarily he expects to keep it. Every man expects to keep his word, and every broken pledge costs the drunkard many a headache. But he cannot help it. He fights as long as he can, then succumbs to the craving. The nervous system of the drunkard is diseased, and he must have treatment that will cure this condition. This Orrine will do it and it is sold under a positive guarantee to cure the drink habit or the money will be refunded. No other treatment for the liquor habit is sold with such a liberal guarantee.

Orrine is prepared in two forms: No. 1 a powder, perfectly tasteless and colorless, which can be given secretly in any food or drink. Orrine No. 2, in pill form, is for those who wish to be cured of the habit, and it should be taken by every one who swears off.

No matter which form of Orrine is used the guarantee is the same. The price of Orrine is $1.00 per box, mailed in plain sealed wrapper, upon receipt of price, write for free booklet on "How to Cure Drunkenness" (mailed in plain sealed envelope) by The Orrine Co., Washington, D. C. Orrine is sold by the Wolf-Wilson Drug Co.

HUSBAND GETS HABEAS CORPUS FOR AUTO BRIDE

Disappeared With Her Mother, Bridegroom Says, After the Marriage.

MAN IS A CHAUFFEUR

Couple Eloped to Alton While Girl's Mother Was Out Shopping.

The automobile elopement of Miss Adeline Mohr and Ray Hoskins, chauffeur, resulted Friday in a petition by Hoskins for a writ of habeas corpus for his bride of three days, who, he charges, is being held prisoner by his mother-in-law. Mrs. Mohr lives at 3252 A. McPherson avenue.

Judge Taylor Friday morning issued a writ, returnable next Thursday at 10 a. m. Attorney Karl Kimmel wanted the hearing earlier, saying:

"The young husband is much agitated over this matter and fears to have his wife with her mother, as she exercises a very strong influence over the young woman."

Judge Taylor replied that, as the bride had lived with her mother for 20 years, he did not think her opinions could be changed much in four or five days more.

"Mrs. Mohr knew I was attentive to her daughter," Hoskins told a Post-Dispatch reporter, "but she discouraged me, because she wanted Adeline to marry an elderly man, who is wealthy."

Had Planned Elopement.

Hoskins is 21 years old, his bride 20. They have been acquainted two years, he says, and for a month have planned to elope. Last Tuesday Miss Mohr telephoned her chauffeur-sweetheart that Mrs. Mohr had gone shopping.

AUTO BRIDE WHO DISAPPEARED WITH MOTHER AFTER ELOPEMENT

An automobile replaced Lechner's steed in the elopement that followed. Hoskins sped to the house, and with Miss Mohr drove downtown, where Robert H. Boyd of 3041 Laclede avenue was waiting with his wife. Then the four went to Alton, where Justice Nathan performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins returned to his home, 3840 Olive street, where they were welcomed by his parents.

At 1:30 a. m. Wednesday Mrs. Mohr appeared at the Hoskins home. She at first appeared displeased at the marriage, but later, Hoskins says, seemed to become reconciled, and suggested that her daughter go out with her for a while.

"She said Adeline should be back within an hour," Hoskins said, "and I left the house. In a little while they returned, but left again and I have not seen my wife since."

"I have tried every way to get into communication with my wife, without success. I am sure that she is not voluntarily remaining with her mother, and I am determined to get her back."

Locked Door of Home.

A reporter for the Post-Dispatch who called at the Mohr flat was told that neither Mrs. Hoskins nor Mrs. Mohr was there. A woman who answered the doorbell said she was Mrs. Mohr's mother. She said that when Mrs. Mohr departed at 1 a. m. Thursday she took the key, leaving only the rear exit open.

"I do not know where my daughter and granddaughter went," she said. "They may have left town."

"Do you sympathize with the young man?" was asked.

"Yes, I think he should be treated right. My daughter wanted Adeline to marry another."

HORSE AS EXHIBIT "A" IS BROUGHT BEFORE THE JUDGE

Question of the Animal's Color Is Soon Decided in a Replevin Suit.

Persons who saw Judge Sale making a critical inspection of a horse in front of the Courthouse Thursday afternoon may have supposed that he thought of buying, but he had no such thought. The horse was exhibit A. The Judge was looking the animal over to see whether it was black or brown.

The horse, or at least a horse, was the subject of a replevin suit which had been on trial. It was brought by L. Wolford & Co. against Henry Roeder and John Young. "One black horse, 6 years old and 16 hands high," was the description. Such a horse was sold by the Wolfords to John Aubuchon. He gave a chattel mortgage and failed to pay.

An animal alleged to be the same came into the possession of Roeder and Young. They denied that it was the one that had been sold to Aubuchon and declined to give it up.

Witnesses for Roeder and Young insisted that it was brown. Attorneys for the Wolfords tried to make it appear that the sun might have caused a change in the color of the horse's coat. Judge Sale cut the discussion short by ordering the horse brought to court. This was done. His inspection satisfied him of one thing.

"The horse is unquestionably black," he said.

"Indoor Baseball"—a new game for fans and boys and girls—given free with the next Sunday Post-Dispatch. It's all ready to play when you get the paper.

5000 INDIANA MARRIAGES ARE HELD ILLEGAL

Innumerable Complications
Will Follow if Higher Courts Uphold Contention.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Five thousand marriages which have been performed in Hammond, Ind., within the last five years were declared to be illegal, in an opinion rendered yesterday at Hammond by Attorney Lowden O. Bomberger to Ernest L. Shortridge, Clerk of the Circuit and Superior courts.

In his opinion, he holds that licenses issued by the Superior Court of Lake County, located at Hammond, are issued without legal authority, and that the only court of Lake County which is empowered to issue licenses is the Circuit Court at Crown Point.

If he is right, 5000 couples who have sought the aid of the "sandy laws of Indiana during the past five years, and had the knot tied at Hammond, have been living together without legal sanction. The possible complications of a legal character alone which would follow such a state of affairs are innumerable.

Transfers of property, inheritances and a variety of matters depending upon the marriage of contracting parties will be cast under a cloud, which will remain until the higher courts are able to render opinions on the technical points involved.

LOST SISTER IS FOUND BY "HAPPIEST WOMAN"

Search Instituted for Mrs. Richard Costello Is Rewarded When Relatives, Parted for 27 Years, Hear of Each Other.

Mrs. Richard Costello, 6210 Maple avenue, is the happiest woman in St. Louis. She has just received word from her sister, whom she had not seen since she was two weeks old, and who, only a dim legend to her, had been given up for dead. The news was brought to her Thursday evening by city detectives, the Chief of Police having been appealed to by the elder sister to find Mrs. Costello.

Mrs. Costello was Miss Lottie Magill. Her sister's name was Bertha Ann. Their father was a pioneer of this section and died within a few days of the mother in 1830. At that time Lottie, now Mrs. Costello, was just two weeks old and Bertha Anna was 3 years old. Lottie was adopted by John Waters and his wife, Bridget, and Bertha Anna by a family named Robinson, which soon moved away from St. Louis.

Recently Chief Creevy received a letter from Cheyenne, Wyo., signed Bertha Magill Allen, asking him to find Lottie Magill, or the family of John Waters. Detectives located the Waters family and found that the adopted daughter now was the wife of Richard Costello, a railroad engineer.

When the detectives called at the Costello home Thursday evening the husband was away on his run. Mrs. Costello thought at first the officers brought news of an accident. She came near swooning.

"We bring you good news," said the detectives.

When Mrs. Costello learned that her sister had been heard from she said the dearest wish of her life had been realized. She will communicate at once with Mrs. Allen at Cheyenne.

STREET CAR AS AMBULANCE Used to Carry Injured Youth to North Side Dispensary.

A Broadway street car was used as an ambulance Friday morning to convey Paul Butnes, injured in falling from another car, to the North Side Dispensary.

Butnes, who is 16, and resides at 1267 South Third street, was riding near the car sheds on the platform of a northbound Broadway car. He does not know what caused him to fall off. His left leg was broken below the knee.

ANTI-LID MAYOR GETS A BOUQUET

W. C. T. U. of Belleville Shows Appreciation of Enforcement
ment of Law.

Mayor Kern of Belleville, known as the most radical of anti-lid Mayors, was greatly surprised Thursday afternoon when he received a big bouquet of yellow and white roses from the Belleville ladies of the W. C. T. U.

He thought at first it was a hoax when the bouquet was handed to him by Chief of Police Neegen, who said two heavily veiled women had left it with him for the Mayor. The legend on a card read: "From the ladies of enforcement of the law protecting minors."

Mrs. William Savage, president of the Belleville division of the W. C. T. U., said Friday:

"Yes, we gave the bouquet to the Mayor. Mrs. Mattie Hayes and I took it to his office, but he wasn't in and we left it with the Chief. We don't agree with the Mayor in his opposition to the lid, but we are with him in the great work which he has done in enforcing the laws against saloonkeepers who have dance halls and in making it impossible for young boys and girls to be contaminated at such places as they were before he took up the fight."

Euchre for Visitation Church.
A euchre party, followed by a dance, will be given Wednesday evening, Nov.

30, at the Liederkreis Hall, 300 Easton avenue, for the benefit of the Catholic Church of the Visitation, Easton and Taylor avenues.

ADDRESS: LIMERICK, POST-DISPATCH.

A NEW FIELD FOR WOMEN.

Aeronaut Wants Housekeeper, Cook and Chambermaid to Go Up in a Balloon. Written for the Post-Dispatch.

BY MAZIE MADDER.

A NEW career for women has been discovered, one which cannot be said to be out of women's "sphere," either. It is the "highest" profession in the world or above the world, as well. Women frequently "go up in the air" and "get off their sphere," but these very characteristics are essential for the newest of new careers for women.

Dr. John Krone of Chicago has advertised for a housekeeper, a cook and a chambermaid for his $50,000 airship in which he plans to fly about Chicago with a party of 15 friends as guests.

This "ascension," as it were, of these important careers for women, will elevate the plane of these erstwhile offensive appellations and housekeeping, cooking and the work of the chambermaid will assume an unprecedented popularity. The craze to enter any of the above-named careers will insure a glutted market of aspiring women who will clamor to take advantage of a possible rise in the world.

With pride, she who has vulgarly been designated as "kitchen-mechanic," will ascend to the dignity of "aero-mistress," "pilot's chef" or "airship maid." The duties of those who are fortunate in taking advantage of this proposed rise will differ considerably from the despised duties of those who continue to work on terra firma. Answering the front doorbell will not be required of the airship maid and she will be spared the task of sending the butcher boy to the back door. The dusting will be reduced to a minimum. Of course, with her own dainty hands she will whisk up any of the sand which is carelessly scattered on the drawing room floor.

"No washing" will be one of the inducements for an applicant to consider accepting a position. There will be no keeping victuals warm for the meal; everyone will eat at table and there will be no fear of domestic jars for fear of falling out. Should the cook ask for an advance in wages, her demands will be considered in a respectfully becoming manner because argument might result in the cook's leaving, she might pull the rip cord if she were crossed, and, besides, she has been counted on for ballast, and disaster would follow if she left suddenly in a huff. The advantages of becoming an "aero" domestic are apparent. Dr. Krone should have no difficulty in procuring skilled help when the characteristic advantages of the positions are carefully considered.

PRIZES FOR BEST ANSWERS

Do women attach too much importance to the preservation of beauty, as shown in the use of skin lotions, hair restorers, etc., or is it right that a woman should try to retain as long as possible any attractiveness with which nature has endowed her? Seven prizes aggregating $10 will be paid to the authors of the best answers. Address: Prize Letters, Post-Dispatch. Be brief.

HOW MANY GIRLS MEET MEN?

A Prize Discussion by Readers of the Post-Dispatch.

A NY refined young lady will not only be cordially received, but well introduced to desirable young men any Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock by a committee of young ladies and gentlemen members of Lafayette Park Methodist Sunday school class No. 2. This class has a membership of 125; has a monthly social meeting with a program; has committees to visit the sick, assist its members to get better positions, desirable homes, etc., etc. The influence of this class is wholesome, edifying and practical. The superintendent will personally introduce any young lady who will clip and present this letter or call for him. Please accept and test this offer and report the results to the Post-Dispatch.

G. W. HALL, Superintendent.

A young married woman of my acquaintance, who often had a crowd of young people at her home to spend the evening, was asked if they did not annoy her. She replied she was glad to see them have a good time. Before marriage she had no place to entertain company except the parks, so, after her marriage, her home was always open to young people of both sex. Young people after marriage should not just settle down and think of no one but themselves. Let them open the doors of their home and entertain single friends now and then. Surely the husband knows a few sober, industrious young fellows who work where he does. He should invite them to spend the evening with him. They will be glad to get away from their boarding house into a home atmosphere. The wife should invite her girl friends. Acquaintances made in this way are always safe. I do not approve of chance acquaintances. Too often these acquaintances are married men, who wish to see how many girls they can flirt with. Married folks, please take my advice and help your less fortunate friends along toward a home of their own. Entertain them at your home with games or even an old-fashioned taffy pulling. Encourage them to come and see you often and I am sure we will hear of more happy marriages, less scandals and fewer divorces.

MRS. EFFIE ARROWSMITH, Madison, Ill.

In the first place, no girl in the city can be so situated that she does not come in contact in some way with a few men of some kind. The thing most important is to be interesting yourself and your problem won't be how to meet men, but rather "which shall I favor." Men are lonely, too, though they don't admit it, and they are just as keen to notice womenkind, to be devoted, to fall in love, as they were when knight-hood flourished and every man had his lady-love. They see the beauty of each passing face, or the grace of manner, or carriage, or the pleasant intellectual countenance, and are quick to observe your culture, your grammar, your charm, even in the most casual sentence you might utter to your employer, the office boy, your woman friend or the person who does you some monetary service on the street, and they may only overhear the sound of your voice. Men have fallen in love with a mere speaking voice many times. For myself, I could not be interested in a man whom somebody scared up through the medium of a club or church or other "society for the friendless," and if I were a man I should be prejudiced against a girl who had to resort to such a medium. If my own personality fails to interest a man, I'm sure it would prove a sad disappointment to have him rushed up, introduced and then fall flat. I've known girls who were only moderately attractive in a physical sense, yet who could put so much pliancy in a nod or a good morning or a humorous remark about that overworked subject, the weather, that everyone within hearing distance some way felt brightened by it. After all, it's a man's prerogative to seek a woman, and don't get impatient that he won't use it, and manage some way to meet you. Be reciprocal, be alive, don't be afraid of a friendly (not coquettish) smile. Respond to every courtesy shown you frankly and generously, if it's only the office boy or the street car conductor. MRS. C. M. M., 5336 Lucas av., St. Louis.

VENUS OF PURE GOLD.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.
A statue of the Venus of Milo, made of Tanana gold and weighing 400 ounces, has been received in a shipment of gold from the Washington-Alaska Bank of Fairbanks, and is an excellent reproduction in miniature of the famous statue. The gold in the statue is valued at $225. Including its small square base of gold, the statue is 12 1/2 inches high.

The casting of this statue was the idea of the Alaska Bank. It sent to Boston for a mold, and on its arrival the gold was melted in sufficient quantity to fill it. The work was all done in the private assay office of the bank, which is operated to assay all gold received. The employees wished to show their friends in the States that works of art were as much appreciated in the North as elsewhere, and that they could do other things than mine gold.

The model was cast Sept. 18 and placed on exhibition for a few days before being shipped south. The gold in the statue was mined in the Tanana district, and is of a dull color. It has not been polished.

MOTHERS OF ST. LOUIS

Vinyl Will Make Your Thin, Ailing Children Strong, Rosy and Robust.

Mrs. L. P. Skonnard, of Minneapolis, writes: "I feel it my duty to tell others what your cod liver preparation, Vinyl, has done for my little boy. He was sick for two years, pale, and had no appetite. We tried different doctors and medicines and had given up all hopes that he would recover, but thanks to Vinyl he is a well and healthy boy, and I was recommended Vinyl to every mother who has a weak or sickly child."

Every mother in St. Louis should know that our cod liver preparation, Vinyl, will make her children strong, robust and healthy. We have never sold anything equal to it in our store for this purpose, and we will return your money if it fails.

Is there a mother in St. Louis, Mo., who will ignore such a generous offer as this? Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo.

HARD TIMES AND COL. TODHUNTER.

All His Friends Have Been Pulled Up When They Were Going to Rival the Spenders. Reported for the Post-Dispatch

BY RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS.

"WELL, suh," said Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter, "until this here little financial stringency sorter gripped our purse-strings and tied 'em temporarily in a hard knot, I'll be daddled if I knew I had so many rich folks among my acquaintance, suh."

It's a fact, suh—dog my cats if I know has just been pulled up short on schemes of spending that would have made Coal-Oil Johnny look like a miser livin' on the smell of an ostrich in comparison with 'em, suh. If all the stories they tell me are true, suh, about how they was just a-goin to build West End palaces, buy garages-full of automobiles, spend the comin' winter in princely luxury down at Palm Beach and other Florida resorts where a dollar ain't no bigger'n a pin-head in the show-down and cuttin' other such doings, suh, I'll just be daddled if St. Louis money wa'n't about to flow like water out of a busted barrel, suh—without stint and at every crack in the staves, suh.

"But, of course, it can't be now, suh, they tell me—they've got to retrench and wait till the clouds roll by. They can't afford to spend more than a thousand dollars a week at such a time, suh—and I'll eat my hat if they don't look as solemn-faced as an old wall-eyed man when they're a-tellin' me about it, suh, for all the world as if they not only believed what they was a-sayin' themselves, but had the audacity to think that Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter was a swallowin' of it, too, suh."

"It's enough to make a hoss laugh, suh—but I drew the line when one old rascal who has'n't seen a hundred dollars all in a bunch since he lost his wife's fortune, backed me up against a bar down here on Sixth street and tried to extract a ten from me because, he said, as his money was now tied up in the Knickerbocker Trust Co. complication in New York, leaving him, for the time bein', pretty well strapped, suh. For the time bein'—why, daddled his old hide, he's been strapped so long that, if he woke up some bright mornin' and found more'n carfare in his vest, he'd drop dead 'tween the shocks, suh."

"Ain't it curious, suh, how many poor folks suddenly grows rich then times when the real rich folks has suddenly been made poor for a few weeks? I'll bet you can't throw a clod of dirt on Broadway and Olive right this mornin', suh, without it's breakin' and hittin' at least a dozen embarrassed millionaires, suh. Yes, suh—and not one of 'em but was about to prove that they know how to spend money as a millionaire should if this unfortunate condition in the money market hadn't caught 'em almost by surprise."

"I'll be shot full o' holes if I don't envy 'em, suh—they seem so happy in makin' their foolish little bluffs, suh—and it ain't at all certain that I won't try it on myself before this here financial stringency is over, suh. You bet I keep a pretty close eye on me—the first thing you know you'll see Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter blossomin' out as a tied-up Croesus himself, suh, and he'll do it to beat the band if he once makes up his mind to it, suh."

"There ain't nothin' like bein' in the fashion, suh."

SCIENCE'S NEWEST AID TO THE DEAF.

A German inventor there has been devised an apparatus to do away with the necessity of fixing tubes in the ears of the deaf. It consists of three parts—a highly sensitive microphone about the size of the palm of the hand, which the user can affix to a button on his coat or elsewhere; a small pocket electric battery and a small apparatus similar to a telephone receiver, which is held to the ear. Through the increased force given to the sound by means of the microphone, a sound current which is not only concentrated, but also intensified, reaches the auditory nerve.

OPPENHEIMERS READY FOR NEW VAUDEVILLE WAR

St. Louis Managers Have Plan to Combine With William Morris.

FULL SEASON ASSURED

Will Not Worry if Klaw & Erlanger Break Five-Year Contract.

In the event that the Klaw & Erlanger-United Booking Offices—Western Vaudeville Managers' Association—merger of vaudeville interests, consummated Thursday in New York, leaves the Oppenheimer Brothers of St. Louis outside the vaudeville breastworks, a new vaudeville combination will be effected to fight the triple-headed vaudeville trust.

This new independent combination, competing with the old and the absorbed Klaw & Erlanger, will be headed by William Morris of New York and Chicago, who controls something like a vaudeville attractions.

The Oppenheimers of St. Louis, controlling the new American and the Garrick theaters in this city, the Sam S. Shubert Theater in Kansas City, and the Academy in Milwaukee, Wis., and also negotiating for houses in Minneapolis and at other points, will be associated with William Morris in the new vaudeville combination.

Morris Was Barred.
At 10:30 o'clock Thursday night, following the close of the big merger deal in New York, William Morris, in that city, called up Jacob Oppenheimer in St. Louis over the long-distance phone and notified him formally that he (Morris) was not in the merger deal. This leaves Morris open to co-operate with the Oppenheimers in whatever vaudeville movement may be organized.

Sol N. Oppenheimer is now in New York looking after the interests of the Oppenheimer brothers and the American Theatrical Co. of St. Louis, of which they are the head.

Jacob Oppenheimer, resident manager of the Garrick Theater in St. Louis, discussed the new situation with a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday morning.

"Mind you," said Mr. Oppenheimer, "I do not say that Klaw & Erlanger or the United States Amusement Co. organized by them, propose to break their contracts with us, or leave us in the lurch in any way, but I do say that if this should be done, the organization of an independent vaudeville combination, with William Morris at its head, and ourselves associated with him, is extremely likely."

Talks of Their Plans.
"Mr. Morris controls a sufficient number of good vaudeville attractions to furnish bookings for an entire season of 30 weeks or more, and, besides, it is not unlikely that the Interstate Amusement Co., engaged in vaudeville in the Southern states, would become associated with us."

"The American Theatrical Co., our organization here in St. Louis, has a three-year contract with Morris for all his bookings, with a $5,000 forfeit for the breaking of the contract by either party."

"We have a five-year contract with the United States Amusement Co., guaranteed by Klaw & Erlanger, not only giving us control for that length of time of the Garrick in St. Louis, the Shubert in Kansas City, the Mary Anderson in Louisville and the Academy in Milwaukee, but also for the bookings of the United States Amusement Co.'s attractions during that period."

"It will remain for the courts to fix the penalty if this contract is violated, although I do not think the matter will ever go to the courts."

"Under this contract, it will be impossible for the Interstate Amusement Co. or Klaw & Erlanger to regain control of these houses in St. Louis, Kansas City, Louisville and Milwaukee until the termination of our five-year contract."

Garrick to Change.
"The new merger, however, makes it certain that the Garrick Theater in St. Louis will not permanently be a vaudeville house. The attractions of the new vaudeville combination, if such a combination is effected, or whatever attractions are to be booked by us in St. Louis, will be at the American Theater in this city. It is our intention to make the Garrick a permanent musical stock house."

"The Shubert in Kansas City, the Mary Anderson in Louisville and the Academy in Milwaukee, however, will remain as vaudeville, booking the same attractions as does the American in St. Louis."

"It may be that Klaw & Erlanger will make Mr. Spaulding in New York, owner of the Olympic and lessee of the Century Theater in St. Louis, by which they will be permitted to book some of their first-class dramatic attractions at the Garrick, and insuring us good vaudeville bookings at the American."

"Klaw & Erlanger are not in the habit of breaking contracts, and I have no information from New York indicating that they propose to do so in this instance."

"I am given to understand that Keith & Procter have agreed to pay Klaw & Erlanger $300,000 a year for 10 years—a total of $3,000,000—for agreeing to quit the war and go back to the legitimate drama."

O. HENRY (WM. S. PORTER) TO WED A SOUTHERN GIRL

Bride-to-Be Is Miss Sarah L. Coleman of Asheville, N. C.; She Is Also a Writer.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 8.—The engagement of Miss Sarah Lindsey Coleman of Asheville to William Sidney Porter of New York, known to literary fame as O. Henry, has been announced. The wedding is to take place at the home of the bride's mother here, probably either the latter part of this month or early in December.

Miss Coleman is a young literary woman and comes from one of the oldest families in the South. She is the daughter of the late Col. Thaddeus Coleman, who served with distinction in the Confederate Army and won renown in laying out the route of the old Western North Carolina railway, now the Southern through the Blue Ridge Mountains, which is said to have been one of the greatest engineering feats ever achieved.

We Laundered 940,835 Collars and CUFFS during the first ten months of 1907, an increase of 37 per cent over the same period of 1906. There is a reason for this growth. We dampen all seams and steam your collars before shaping them BY A PROCESS OF OUR OWN. This prevents them from breaking. We take off the rough edges with GLAT-TOLIN, the famous German preparation, which prevents your neck from chafing. We are the first laundry in America to introduce GLAT-TOLIN, because we adopt the most modern methods of laundering. We do not make old collars new, but make your new collars wear longer. News of Death Simultaneous With $100,000 Suit by Daughter-in-Law.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 8.—With the discovery that Gustave Lehmann Sr., the millionaire wholesale drygoods merchant, was a suicide, the complicated trouble in the Lehmann family is the absorbing topic of the hour.

His self-murder is attributed to the alliance of his son, Joseph Lehmann, with Helen Florence Hahn, one-time a stenographer in New York and later a member of one of the Schubert musical productions.

Mrs. Lehmann Jr. has never been recognized by her husband's family, a leader in German society here, which, it is declared, finally succeeded in persuading young Lehmann to desert her. Joseph Lehmann went aboard last June at the instance of his father, it is asserted.

Grief at his son's action in making a marriage so distasteful to the family and worry over the threat of legal proceedings are believed to have unsettled Gustave Lehmann's mind. He disappeared little more than a week ago, and a diligent search for days, in which no money was spared, failed to find trace of him.

She Sues for $100,000.
On yesterday, while his whereabouts were still in doubt, Mrs. Joseph Lehmann filed the $100,000 damage suit she had been contemplating, having exhausted every other effort at a settlement. It is said that Gustave Lehmann offered her $25,000 to relinquish his son, but that she sharply declined the money, declaring that she loved her husband.

Mrs. Jos. Lehmann is at the St. Charles, the most expensive hotel here. Allowance while he remained with her did not permit his antipathy toward her to stint her in living expenses. When seen at the hotel by the Post-Dispatch correspondent, Mrs. Lehmann spoke with great feeling of her trying position and told a remarkable story of how, as she alleged, she had been hounded by the Lehmann family, and conspired against by their wealthy friends.

"I love my husband," said she, "just as much as the day we were married, and should he return tomorrow I would forgive him everything. I cannot grieve, however, over the tragic end of my father-in-law, as he never recognized me, and always referred to me as 'that woman.' I believe my husband still loves me, and that if he were not coerced and practically held under surveillance, with his allowance cut off, he would be with me.

"People are trying to hold me responsible for the self-destruction of Mr. Lehmann. Nothing could be more unjust. I brought the suit charging conspiracy to separate my husband from me and get him out of the country, and for slander against my character only after the Lehmann family had every opportunity to make a quiet settlement."

Detectives Watch Her.
As Mrs. Lehmann talked she was passing in street costume down the stairway to the street landing of the hotel, in company with the correspondent. Almost the first person she encountered was a detective, who stood like a statue, his eyes fastened upon her face.

"There," she said, "you have the evidence before you. That detective, in the employ of the Lehmann family, watches my every movement. He is trying to procure some evidence by which the Lehmanns can bring an action for divorce.

"To be so unjustly humiliated, just to please a clique of rich people in New Orleans, and to know that this clique has even exerted a sinister influence over the newspapers here, in an effort to crush me, is something that an ordinary woman could not hold up under. But I am going to stick it out.

"The only objection the Lehmann family has to me is that I was once on the stage. Is that a dishonor? I do not think so. When I was a chorus girl in New York in the winter of 1904 I met Joseph Lehmann formally for the first time. From that time on Joseph pursued me with his attentions, and after a year we secretly signed a compact that we would neither of us marry any other person. He was devoted to me, and on one occasion while I was in Chicago Joseph traveled 2000 miles from a point in Texas just to spend Sunday with me.

Joseph Lehmann, who is 28, and Miss Hahn were married at Hammond, Ind., on June 22, 1906, by a justice of the peace.

SUES HUSBAND FOR $2000 LOAN
Mrs. Mary Ryan Wants to Collect 20-Year Note in Advance.

Mrs. Mary Ryan is suing her husband, Thomas P. Ryan, of 324 Corns Avenue, for $2000, which she says she loaned him two days after they were married. The marriage was on Dec. 15, 1906.

When she loaned him the money she says it was her understanding that it was to be invested for their mutual benefit. Her husband gave her a note for it. She says he deceived her by making it due after 30 years. When she discovered this she demanded her money. She did not get it, but alleged her husband offered her a six-year note.

THE BEST $3.50 SHOES

Men in every walk of life, in all professions and trades, the gentleman of leisure and the workingman—all wear W. L. Douglas's $3.50 shoes because they are the best.

$25,000 Reward To any one who can prove that W. L. Douglas's shoes are made of better material and are more comfortable than any other shoes.

THE REASON W. L. Douglas's $3.50 shoes are worn by more men in all walks of life than any other make, is because of their excellent style, easy fitting and superior wearing qualities. The selection of the leathers and other materials for each part of the shoe, and every detail of the making is looked after by the most complete organization of superintendents, foremen and skilled shoemakers, who receive the highest wages paid in the shoe industry, and whose workmanship cannot be excelled.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas's $3.50 shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater value than any other $3.50 shoe.

My method of tanning the bottom sole produces more flexible and longer wearing leather than any other tanning.

Oldest Music Professor In Jersey City Cured

MR. C. WEITEMEYER.

Mr. C. Weitmeyer, Jersey City, N. J., who is the oldest music professor in that city, has been cured of nervous headache by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, taken regularly.

Mr. Weitmeyer enjoys excellent health, thanks to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"I have used Duffy's Malt Whiskey for twenty years and believe it to be all you claim for medicinal and home use. I know your whiskey cured me of rheumatism and nervous headaches which my profession subjected me to. By taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly I am in the best of health today."—C. WEITEMEYER, 74 Grand Street, Jersey City, N. J., Dec. 28, 1906.

Thousands of letters similar to this one are received daily from those who have been restored to health by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, the world's greatest family medicine and tonic-stimulant.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science, softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances renders it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

It is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic. It builds up nerve tissues, tones up the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood. It brings into action all the vital forces. It makes digestion perfect, and enables you to get from the food you eat the nourishment it contains. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens the system, is a promoter of health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a form of food already digested and is recognized as a medicine everywhere.

CAUTION—Sold by all druggists, grocers and dealers or direct, in sealed bottles only; never in bulk. Price $1. Insist on the genuine and see that the "Old Chemist" trade-mark is on the label and that the seal over the cork is unbroken. Beware of refilled bottles and spurious malt whiskey substitutes offered for sale by unreliable dealers. They are positively harmful and will not cure. Illustrated medical booklet and doctor's advice free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

JUDGE KLEIBER TO GO HUNTING QUILTS FLOCK AFTER 18 YEARS

Judge Frank M. Kleiber of the Wyoming Street Police Court will lay aside his judicial robes next Monday while he dons his hunting costume for ten days. The Judge and a party of friends will go to Southeastern Missouri, about six miles from the Arkansas line, and hunt quail, rabbits and ducks. If any bears show their black noses they will be killed quicker than Teddy could do it, according to a statement of the Judge.

Justice of the Peace Louis A. Spies of the First Justice of the Peace Court will preside in Judge Kleiber's absence.

After serving 18 years as pastor of Lafayette Park Presbyterian Church, Rev. Dr. S. C. Palmer will tender his resignation to the congregation Sunday. He declines to discuss his future plans.

Dr. Palmer, who is one of the most prominent Presbyterian ministers in the city and a well-known public speaker, is a member of the Home Missionary Committee of the Presbyterian Ministers' Association and of the Ministers' Alliance. He has been in the ministry 35 years, coming to St. Louis from Rushville, O.

STURDAY'S most prominent and fashionable wedding will be that of Miss Adele Riemeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Riemeyer of 312 Hawthorne boulevard, and Mr. Paul Groeninger. The ceremony will be at 3:30 o'clock, with a bridal dinner to follow for the bride party and the relatives of the bride and bridegroom. The bridegroom will be of heavy white satin, with point and duchess lace and a long tulle veil with lilies of the valley and bride roses will complete the toilette. The bride's attendants, who are Miss Anna Riemeyer, her sister, will be maid of honor; Miss Irma Frick of Louisville, Ky., and Miss Cora Rasmussen, will all wear pale pink silk and chiffon gowns and carry pink roses. The wedding colors will be pink and white and will be carried out in the flower and table decorations. A large reception to several hundred friends will be given between the hours of 3:30 and 5:30 o'clock. Florence Florence Haase, a cousin of the bride, will attend as flower girl. Mr. and Mrs. Groeninger will depart the same evening for the East, where they will spend the early days of their honeymoon. There at home days will be announced later.

"This chrysanthemum show fairly rivals that at Shaw's Garden," declared a guest Thursday afternoon at the reception given by Mrs. William K. Bixby. Her hearers assented heartily, for the display of the big, feathery, fashionable, fall flower was indeed a handsome one. Mums of all colors, shapes and sizes filled the house, white ones massed in the drawing room, placed in all available positions in the large art gallery, and in the dining room, where refreshments were served from a large, round table, golden yellow ones in the soft, yellow light from many electric globes and formed a fine picture against the dark Flemish oak background of the room.

The reception hall and staircase were also trimmed with potted mums, combined with many palms.

Mrs. Bixby entertained for her debutante daughter, Miss Emma Bixby, who has been in the East at school for several years, and spent her vacation largely in travel, so that the afternoon was in all respects a genuine introduction.

The two ladies received in the drawing room, the hostess wearing white pena cloth from the Philippines, with a tiny stripe of rich purple in its weave, and trimmed with point lace. Miss Bixby wore a simple white net frock, with princess lace garniture.

Mrs. William McMillan, in black thread lace, assisted, though not receiving. Mrs. David Bixby was to have served, but was unexpectedly called out of town Wednesday and therefore unable to be present.

As Mrs. Bixby's list is a very large one, the number of guests Thursday corresponded, and fully four hundred callers presented themselves during the afternoon. Some of them were:

Mrs. Alfred Lee Shapleigh, John Schroers, Charles Gidehaus, Samuel Kennard, Edith Howard, Julia Allen, James Hoskins, P. G. Matfitt, Philip North Moore, Harrison Steadman, John Ockerson, Thomas S. Sear, William L. Huse, O. H. Peckham, Isaac Hedger, Edward Wyman, Arthur Gale, Edward Wyman, George Carpenter, H. McK. Jones, Jacob Allen, John Nickerson, James A. Waterworth, Dwight Tredway, T. E. Kiediger, John H. Thomson, Goodman King, Charles Patton, C. R. Simpson, William Hardaway, Edward H. Simmons, William C. Little, Thomas Carter.

Mrs. Katherine Sample, Helen Tredway, Grace Sample, Charlotte Runbold, Katherine Tuit, Edith Scott, Elizabeth Moore, Marie Garpeau, Katherine Gratz, Margaret Lohmeyer, Margaret Cabel, Lucine Davis.

Mrs. Clarence Hillery was hostess at an informal reception Friday afternoon at her Spring avenue home. Mrs. Hillery received alone, in a pink chiffon cloth gown. The decorations were pink chrysanthemums and palms. Assisting in entertaining were Misses John Young Brown, Rodgers Hatch, Margaret Besch, Henry Whiteside, Joseph Gettys, Edward T. Campbell, P. G. Hopkins, Bradford Lewis, Alfonso De Figueroa and Miss Daisy Powell.

The young ladies who served were Misses Sarah Cox, Virginia Lucille Campbell, Adele Armstrong, Helen and Hilda Hays, Mary Cannon and Frances Walker.

Mrs. Walter Medart has issued cards for a large reception she will give Nov. 21, from 3 until 6 o'clock, at her South side home. She will be assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Walter Medart Jr. and Mrs. W. J. Hart. Invited to come without hats are Mrs. William Steinwender, Mrs. John Schroers and Mrs. E. D. Rae. Misses Edith Gibson, Frances Hart, Olive Rae, Edna Macklin and Onida Macklin will serve.

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Baum of 5131 Fairmount avenue will receive Sunday in honor of the engagement of their daughter, Blanche, to Mr. Joseph Mayer of Fort Gibson, I. T.

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Bluebell Van Wormer, daughter of Mrs. D. Cramer, 5284 Page boulevard, to Mr. Herbert C. Grotfeld, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. Grotfeld, has been announced. The marriage will take place very quietly on Monday, Nov. 11.

Miss Eleanor Vance of Raleigh, N. C., is the guest of Miss Boogher, having come to attend the Boogher-Stone wedding next Tuesday.

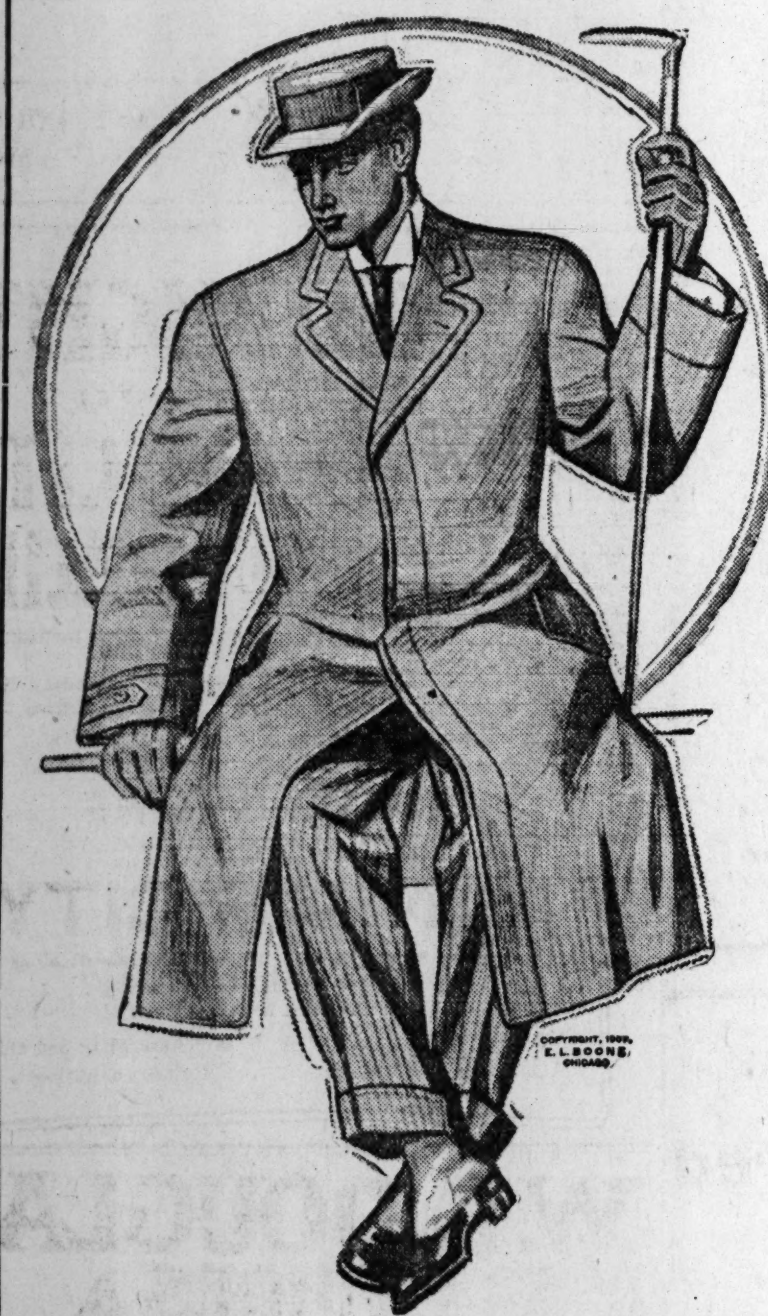

Mrs. David Evans will give a luncheon at the Woman's Club next Wednesday in honor of Miss Lenore Tausig, one of the debutantes of the season.

The engagement of Miss Maybelle Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sanders of 420 West Pine boulevard, to Dr. Percy J. Farmer of Romero, N. M., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Farmer of St. Louis, has been announced. The marriage will take place in January.

Mrs. Clara Reichenbach of 5040 Page boulevard announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Birdie, to Mr. Joseph Rothschild.

The legitimate PAID circulation of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis and its suburbs is greater than that of all other English Dailies combined.

Cole's Hot Blast

WILL SAVE $25.00 IN FUEL THIS WINTER

Cole's Hot Blast is a great value. We sell it under a positive guarantee. It burns soft coal, lignite coal, coke, hard coal, wood or any fuel without any change in the stove. You only need one stove for the entire year, Spring, Fall or dead of Winter. Strikes or coal troubles cease to be a terror if you have a Cole's Hot Blast.

Fire Never Out

It is the only stove that keeps the house warm all night and gives the family a warm breakfast room in the morning without kindling a new fire. Guaranteed to hold fire from Saturday night to Monday morning.

Saves the Dollars

If you feel poor it saves half your fuel bill, while giving the above beautiful results. It will even make a ton of cheap slack soft coal do more work and hold fire better than your neighbor gets out of a ton of hard coal in his $50.00 stove.

Scientific and Air-tight

Construction throughout. A patented steel collar connects the elbow draft to the stove body and cannot open by action of the furnace heat. The patented compound hinge on the lower draft cannot warp and the draft door closes air-tight by its own weight. The guaranteed smoke-proof lead door prevents when fuel is put in the stove. Perfect results, therefore, from any fuel. The heavy fire box protects the points where other stoves burn out first, and insures great durability.

Ask to see the patented dustless ash cover for removing ashes. Our method is the only clean way.

Cole's Hot Blast makes $5.00 worth of fuel give more heat than $10.00 worth in any other stove. Sold on a positive guarantee. Investigate today.

CAUTION

See the words, "Cole's Hot Blast from Chicago" on the front door of each stove. None genuine without it.

WESTON PLAYS HERO; KISSED BY PRETTY GIRL

Aged Walker Saved Her From Injury When Her Horse Ran Away.

ANOTHER DAY OF RAIN

He Made 49 Miles, However, and Is Still Beating His Old Record.

Special From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch Accompanying Mr. Weston.

ST. JOHNSVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 8.—
The aged pedestrian, Edward Payson Weston, played the hero as he was hiking westward to Chicago, and for his reward received a kiss from the prettiest girl in the Mohawk Valley.

Weston was pushing ahead against a hard wind a few miles from Fonda when a young woman in a natty blue riding habit and astride a skittish horse met him. The honking of an automobile scared the animal, and it began to rear. Weston saw the danger and sprang for the bridle. As he caught it the horse settled back and the girl lost her balance. She was caught partly in Weston's arms and received only a bruised shoulder. Finding itself free, the horse bolted down the road.

The young woman proved to be Miss Antoinette Deane, daughter of J. F.
Deane, a wealthy manufacturer, who has a country home at Sammonville, near Fonda. Miss Deane is a strikingly handsome brunette and fond of athletics.

Reward for the Walker.
"Oh, I'm sure you are Mr. Weston," said the girl when she had recovered from her fright, "and I was coming out to meet you. Now, I'm going to kiss you for saving me from being hurt."

Miss Deane made good her words and Weston did not protest.

"My dear young lady," he said, "that kiss will send me ten miles further on my way today."

Weston kept up his steady stride and did not halt for sleep until he had put himself 49 miles nearer his destination.
He did this in the teeth of a gale that swept down the Mohawk Valley at 40 miles an hour and over roads that were flooded from the recent heavy rains. He reached St. Johnsville at midnight and is now 462 miles from Portland. He is still over 50 miles ahead of his youthful record.

Anxious to Reach Buffalo.
"Wait until I reach Buffalo," he said today to the Post-Dispatch correspondent. "Then the doubting Thomases will commence to eat their predictions that no man of 68 could do what I have undertaken."

When Weston arrived at Fonda and said that after an hour's rest he intended to push on to St. Johnsville, 21 miles distant, the natives remonstrated with him.

He left Fonda at 1 o'clock and, although a slight drizzle of rain was falling and the wind continued to blow a gale, fully 400 persons saw him off.

WILL FORMER GOV. TAYLOR NOW RETURN FOR TRIAL?

Republican Success in Kentucky
May Mean Much to Both Him and Caleb Powers.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 8.—The election of the entire Republican State ticket in the State now being assured, the question is being asked: "What effect will the change in the political complexion of the State machinery have upon Caleb Powers, now in jail at Georgetown awaiting trial the fourth time for the murder of William Goebel, and will W. S. Taylor, under indictment for this crime and for years a refugee in Indiana, return to Kentucky and stand trial?"

A. E. Wilson, the Republican whose inauguration as Governor will take place the first Monday in December, in his campaign speeches declared that he would see that Powers got a fair trial, and that he would make a requisition upon the Governor of Indiana for the return of Taylor and see that he also got a fair trial.

Powers' trial, if it begins Monday, likely will be completed before Wilson is inaugurated Governor.

A dispatch from Indianapolis says
Gov. Taylor will not return to his old home immediately, and he says he does not know what he may do in the future.
He declines to make any other statement for publication, beyond the satisfaction he feels in the Republican victory in Kentucky.

SHE WANTS DIVORCE SET ASIDE

Mrs. Emma Timmons Dorrance, who wants to have the divorce obtained by John Dorrance set aside and separate maintenance for herself, will have to file an amended petition or begin all over again. A demurrer to her petition was sustained Thursday by Judge Wester on the ground that in it two times of action are joined, one to vacate the divorce and the other for separate maintenance. It was contended by the attorneys of Dorrance that because Mrs. Dorrance could maintain an action for separate maintenance she could have to have the decree set aside by a separate action, thus restoring her status of the wife of Dorrance.
Mrs. Dorrance claims that her husband obtained a decree in St. Louis without letting her know anything about it, although he knew where she was.

DECLARES KILLING AN ACCIDENT

J. J. Costello Tells Jury He Did Not Intend to Shoot Mrs. Ryan.
That the shooting of Mrs. Mary Ryan of 4216 Evans avenue was an accident is the defense being developed in Judge Muench's court by John J. Costello, charged with slaying the woman. Costello testified Thursday afternoon that he accidentally touched the trigger of the revolver while talking to Mrs. Ryan and that it was discharged. Horrified by the accident, he testified that he then attempted to commit suicide.

Willie Ryan, aged 10 years, and Mary, aged 13, children of the dead woman, were the principal witnesses against Costello Thursday. Willie said that Costello gave him money to get candy and that when he returned from the store he heard a shot. He ran to the basement where he found his mother and the defendant. Mary also heard the shot and also saw the two together.

PHYSICIANS TO INSPECT MILK

Health Commissioner to Prevent Use of Preservatives.

A special staff of sanitary officers, all of whom are physicians, has been selected by Health Commissioner Bond to take charge of dairy inspection.
Five of the members will give their entire time to the work.

The annual report on milk inspection for October, submitted by City Chemist Buckland, shows that 333 samples were examined, none of which contained preservatives or coloring matter. Only two samples of cream, out of 128 examined, fell below the required standard.

YOUNG NURSE HAS DISAPPEARED

Relatives in Peoria, Ill., Want to Find Vera Norman.

At the request of relatives and friends in Peoria, Ill., the police are searching St. Louis for some trace of Vera Norman, a pretty trained nurse of 27, whose failure to write home has alarmed her relatives. The request for the search was sent to Chief Cressy by Frank Kiernan, Chief of the Peoria police.

Kiernan asks that the search be conducted quietly so that it will not interfere with Miss Norman's welfare if she is safe and well. "She is ambitious to become a trained nurse," Kiernan wrote, "and it is possible that she is in some hospital."

Officers detailed by Cressy learned that Miss Norman matriculated from St. Ann's Asylum a month ago, at which time she disappeared, leaving her associates without any trace of her whereabouts. She is described as a pretty blonde.

No other St. Louis evening newspaper can get Associated Press dispatches.

COLLECTED SOUVENIR SPOONS

Houseman at M. A. C. Arrested Charged With Larceny.

The disappearance of sundry silver spoons, cakes of soap and boxes of matches from the Missouri Athletic Club is blamed on Richard Corcoran, storekeeper at the clubhouse, following his arrest Thursday night as he left the club after work.

Six spoons were found in his possession, and as many more, with 30 boxes of matches, one of toothpicks and a quantity of soap, were found in his room at 225 Olive street. He confessed that he had taken them from the club, and is held pending application for a larceny warrant.

BLOSSOM OWNED MINING STOCK

Executor Says That Little Real Value Is Represented.

An inventory of the estate of the late Howard A. Blossom, filed in the Probate Court, shows that he left a large estate but not as large as it looks, because he was the owner of a large quantity of worthless mining stock.

The item of stocks shows that the face value is $489,636.83, but Judge Jesse
A. McDonald, one of the executors, says that there is little real value represented in the stock. The other items are: Notes, $33,231.03; bonds, $45,800; cash, $1,265.97; goods and chattels, $2,273; miscellaneous, $63,300; making a total personal estate of $738,512.63.

Eleven pieces of real estate, on good streets are listed. The value is not given.

The legitimate paid circulation of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis and its suburbs is greater than that of all other English dailies combined.

We Caught the Market Right—

Our Never-Equaled November Value-Giving Continues Tomorrow

At the first drop in the Eastern market about two weeks ago "The Model's" buyers, always "on the spot," immediately began buying in immense quantities. Eastern manufacturers, their cash supply cut off by the banks, their spring manufacturing all under way, requiring heavy expenditures, were compelled to sacrifice their Winter stocks at discounts never equaled within the last fifteen years. Last Saturday our first offerings from these advantageous purchases gave us one of the greatest sales day of our history. Since then every express, every freight delivery has brought to us case after case of finest merchandise—all bought far below the regular wholesale price—all new, up-to-the-minute goods. As has always been "The Model's" progressive policy, we now share with our patrons the benefits of our fortunate under-buying. Come tomorrow and view these matchless values. Come expecting extreme bargains—you'll not be disappointed.
